ACHS deals with loss

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The future of extra-curricular activities at Antioch Community High School are in jeopardy again of being eliminated or cut severely as Antioch District 117 voters decided to protect their wallets from a $200 tax increase.

District voters failed to pass the education fund referendum needed to eliminate budget deficits of more than $2.3 million at the school and a $25 million bond issue to build a second campus at the school's Polley Field site in Lindenhurst.

The building referendum lost 5,825 to 3,276, while the education fund referendum lost 4,880 to 3,237.

"The real losers here will be the students that will be attending ACHS over the next four or five years," said Superintendent Dr. Robert Schley. "The students will face inadequate facilities, equipment and larger class sizes."

The two referendums that the Antioch Community High School District 117 Board of Education placed in front of the voters on April 20, would have cost the average taxpayer nearly $200 a year in additional taxes to eliminate a huge budget deficit and build a needed second high school facility.

Opposition to the referendums, from such groups as the Better Education/Sensible Taxes lobby, have

Voters put faith in Fields

Lakeland Newspapers

The power structure in Antioch Township will remain the same for at least the next four years as Jim Fields and other incumbents retained their township board seats.

Despite this election being probably the toughest campaign of Antioch Township Supervisor and Lake County Board member Jim Field's 16-year career, Fields garnered more than 40 percent of the vote in a decisive win.

Fields, 63, received 2,402 votes, while Judy Martini placed second with 1,794 votes, Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton placed third with 1,207 votes, and Lisa Rudek rounded out the voting with 371 votes.

It was a great feeling to win," said Fields, who suffered through a very negative campaign. "The voters saw through the negative campaign garbage and the riverboat issue."

Fields also said he loves working for the people of Antioch Township and will continue to do so until he can no longer serve.

"We are going to continue on the same path," said Fields. "My goals are to

'We are going to continue on the same path. My goals are to get bus service here as soon as Metra has a regular schedule to Antioch.'

get bus service here as soon as Metra has a regular schedule to Antioch."

Also winning township seats were: Clerk Richard Harland, who beat Chris Peters 2,714 to 2,172, Assessor Cliff Houghton, Highway Commissioner Mark Ring, and Trustees Richard Kufalk, Claudette Skvarce, Tim Osmond, and Judy Davis.

Volo will start with pro tem board

VOLO — You can't have a village without government, so the next step for the residents of Volo is to agree on an informal panel to look after their interests. Volo residents overwhelmingly supported incorporation of their area with a 123-22 referendum vote. "It's a great day," said John LoCascio at Knock on Wood in Volo. "It took many, many years of work and frustration. We had to go to the (Illinois) Supreme Court to overturn objections by our next door neighbor (Lakemoor)." LoCascio, one of the major players in the move toward incorporation, said residents will be asked to select a temporary, unofficial group to lead the village during a town meeting.

Woman teaches kids about saving Earth

WAUCONDA — Jane Shilkus' first-grade class at Robert Crown School in Wauconda are helping Jean Paskalides, Island Lake resident, get her message out. They have formed a unit they call the Earth Club. They meet every month and work on various projects with incentives for doing well. When the children bring the items back to school, they received incentives like discounts or free items from local businesses. Because April is Earth Month, Paskalides asked Island Foods to get involved with her project for reducing pollution and increasing recycling. If residents use a cloth bag for groceries during the month, Island Foods will stamp the back of the receipt. After about $250 worth of materials, Island Foods will issue a $5 gift certificate.

Kids teach earth vow to school members

LIBERTYVILLE — In honor of Earth Day, second-grade students at Butterfield School created a pledge to the Earth which follows the theme of the United States pledge of allegiance. Children recited the pledge over the intercom and took copies to other classrooms and taught it to other students. Linda Beitzel, teacher, said the students brainstormed for ideas before writing the pledge. Students discussed different things the Earth needs to remain healthy. And they learned that one person can make a difference. Part of the focus on the activity, which began in October, 1992, is that the children learn to carry the sense of environmental awareness into their teen-age and adult years, Beitzel said.

Army Corps to talk flooding at meeting

GLENCOE — As Lake County residents fill sandbags, find new ways to avoid flooded streets and businesses begin to make adjustments, one might wonder: Are there any ways to stop all this? A full house is expected at Chicago Botanic Garden when the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and other agencies host a meeting at 9 a.m. Tuesday, April 27.

Dog helps girl talk, play with others

LAKE VILLA — A golden retriever named Vanilla is helping Kimberly Schultz, 6, to communicate with other children. Kimberly is one of 2,000 children who is diagnosed with Rett's Syndrome, a condition whose symptoms include excessive hand wringing, and retardation. Kimberly has been exposed to Dolphin Communication Therapy, but spoke only four words prior to Vanilla. Now she speaks 12, according to her mother Sherry.

Allen gains second term as mayor

PARK CITY — Park City Mayor Rob Allen is pleased not only with his own successful bid for re-election, but with results of the city council races as well. "We had a whole bunch of people working for us. My wife Kathy has run three of my campaigns and done an excellent job," Allen said. Allen defeated Ald. Charles Carder 574 to 382 votes, 60 to 39 percent, for the four-year term. It will be Allen's second term as mayor.

Teacher inducted into hall of fame

MUNDELEIN — Quite a few people at Mundelein High School thought industrial arts teacher Jim Jackson belonged in the National Teachers Hall of Fame. The selection committee agreed. Jackson, 47, will be inducted June 19 at Emporia State University in Kansas.

Fire in Lindenhurst guts through house

LINDENHURST — A fire Wednesday, destroyed part a rented home of Douglas Cole at 37435 Verona Street. The fire was apparently started when David Cole dropped a piece of apple that was on fire on the carpet and the flames spread throughout the back of the house. The damage estimated at $30,000.

Assessed value rises, tax rate declines

GURNEE — Gurnee Village Board members learned of an increase in assessed valuation Gurnee Admin. Jim Hayner said information from the Lake County Clerk's office has announced Gurnee's assessed valuation is $365,818,180, up 21 percent. That translates into a village tax rate of 26.3 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. "It continues to go down," Mayor Dick Welton said.

Rte. 176 construction will not close highway

WAUCONDA — Construction scheduled for Rte. 176 from Anderson Road to Rte. 12 in Wauconda will not shut down access to the highway, officials said. The widening and resurfacing of Rte. 176 includes adding left turn lanes at Larkdale Row, the Rte. 12 entrance ramp, Ace Hardware, and Anderson Road. It also includes adding a right turn lane at Larkdale Row, officials said. But the construction, scheduled to begin May 3, will not block traffic traveling either northbound or southbound.

Three districts to file lawsuit against N.C.

LIBERTYVILLE — Because of similar beliefs regarding North Chicago's petition for dissolution, which was filed last week, Libertyville School Dist. 128, Oak Grove Elementary Dist. 68 and Woodland Elementary Dist. 50 agreed to combine efforts to fight for the rights of education, and to impress on North Chicago Unit Dist. 187 that dissolution will not help its situation. The coalition authorized lawyers Fred Foreman and David Liebiez to file a lawsuit against Dist. 187, which will be "in the near future," according to Liebiez. The attorneys had no comment, but said they will issue a release regarding details of the lawsuit after it has been filed.

Once Upon a Time

I have lived in Wauconda for 37 years and used to own a dry goods store. You used to be able to go into town to shop. Now, you have to travel miles to get any item of clothing or food. We have no commercial district to speak of except for restaurants.

Good Work

Thanks to Steven Gray for being instrumental in passing House Bill No. 1439. If all our officials would work as hard as he did for free, Fox Lake would actually be run as a clean, productive town.

Bravo

Bravo to Gregg Miller for his article about all the candidates! In it he asked them to state their views about the asphalt plant. It sure cleared up a lot of questions and concerns of the voters.

Bring On The Buffet

I too am from Round Lake and it takes us over twenty minutes to get to a family style buffet restaurant. Country Buffet, Ponderosa, or Sizzler - we want you! A new buffet restaurant will not solve the world's problems but it would reduce the unemployment and increase local revenue. Round Lake is a great place to live but I am tired of driving across the county to get a meal!

Service Not Self-Service

Attention Lake Villa School District residents. If you care about your school or your property valuations you better get involved in school board meetings. The current board members are insensitive, aloof, and out-of-touch. They have forgotten that they are elected to serve and not be self-serving.

Waterlogged

I am an Antioch resident living on one of the channels in Fox Lake. We are very disgusted with the way they are raising and lowering the level of the lake. They are doing real damage to everyone's boat docks. They should stop worrying about the people living farther on down the line and worry about the people up here on the lakes.

Redirect Your Beef

This is to the lady in Libertyville about paying $1,200 a year! That is $1,200 every six months, not per year. Another thing, we don't have any problems in our school if you keep your children on your side of town. If you have a beef, talk to your own mayor. I was directing my comments to our mayor of North Chicago, who I think "ain't *%&$".

Don't Drive

This is to the idiot "Stop Don't Stop" who talks about passing school buses. I'd like to report him to the cops because it is state law even on the multilane highways to stop for school buses. The only time you do not stop for a school bus is on a divided highway. Some people should know their law better or not drive at all. They may cause an accident if they do not learn the rules of the road.

Apologies Will Be Accepted

This is "Knuckle Head". I want to refer readers to page 30 of the "Rules of the Road". It even has a picture! The rules state that you do not make a stop if you are traveling in the opposite direction of the bus on a four or more lane road. It does not have to be a divided highway. But you should drive carefully. I will accept the apology from the person who called me "Knuckle Head".

Quit Blaming Them

I support the Superintendent and Principal at Antioch High School. These folks have only been there two years. The current problems at the school have been there for years. The residents are blaming the wrong parties. Look into it and quit blaming them!

Dirty Deeds

A big thank you to the League of Women Voters and the Lakeland Newspapers for sponsoring the Wauconda Mayoral debate. I attended this debate for the purpose of evaluating the candidates. One candidate announced that his purpose for attending was to alert the listeners to a law suit. At the question and answer period, he then announced he had to leave for Church services. To my dismay, his wife remained and soon appeared at the podium to question this man's opponents. His entire campaign staff needs to go to church for their dirty deeds.

Keep Dreaming

The Lake Villa library expansion project is a wonderful pipe dream just like the Antioch High School. I do not think it should be built while local residents shoulder the burden. Where are the impact fees from the influx of growth? It is great to build all the wonderful new things but we need help from all of our new neighbors.

Get Shocked

What do you mean that the North Chicago issue is not racial? The hell it ain't! I grew up in the Fox Lake area and I never had to deal with a minority person when going to school. But, thankfully my parents taught me that everyone should be treated equally. I now live in North Chicago. I have no problem with the people living here. However, I do have a problem with the people in Libertyville and the Lake Forest area. They need a culture shock so that their children will be in touch with the real world!

Not Stolen

Judy Martinni has complained that all of her signs have been stolen. Oddly enough, all the signs soon reappeared with a name taken off of them. On some signs, the name was just cut off and on others it was covered with electrical tape. Was that the lady who was running with her and is she now off the ballot? I don't think they should say that someone stole their signs when they, themselves, took them down and changed them!

The Whole Story

Lake County has until early summer to prove its point — Great Lakes Naval Training Center should not be closed. Hours after the federal Base Closure and Realignment Commission allegedly placed Great Lakes on the "hit list" for termination, Lake County Chairman Robert Depke (R-Gurnee) and VOICE co-chairman Ron Weeks called a conference to discuss the possibility of a

Wilton ends era, recalls years as mayor

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton will hit

his mayoral gavel on the table at an Antioch Village Board meeting for the last time on April 26, ending an era in his family's and Antioch's history.

Wilton, whose great-grandfather helped found the village in 1892 and was its first treasurer, will retire from his position in village politics after more than a quarter century of service either as a village trustee or as mayor of his hometown.

"I think I did a good job," said Wilton about his second tenure as mayor. Wilton was first elected mayor in 1973, fulfilling one of his goals in life.

"The second was to be mayor during the centennial year. I really didn't think I would be able to do both in my life, but it happened."

Wilton cited the board accomplished a lot during his second tenure, including a revamping of the village's comprehensive plan, stop lights at the corner of Orchard and Main streets, and the building of Centennial Park.

"I don't claim to be responsible for any of the things the board accomplished during the past four years," said Wilton.

'I sometimes wish the village would never change and stay the way I remember it as a child, but change is good for Antioch and good for the community.'

— Robert Wilton

"I'm just proud to have been a part of the board for the past four years."

Wilton said he will miss the village employees he worked with throughout the years. "I will miss every one in the office," said Wilton. "You can't do something like this for so long and not miss the people you dealt with on a day-to-day basis."

For the record, Antioch will go officially without a mayor for the first three days of May until Clerk Candi Olsen swears in the new mayor and trustees at the regularly scheduled board meeting on May 3.

"Business will run as usual," said Wilton. "Village Administrator Tim Wells and his staff will have things under control until the board gets re-acquainted on May 3."

As for Wilton, he continues to live in the village, in the same home he grew up in some 40 years before.

"The village has changed in ways Thomas Wilton never would have dreamed of," said Wilton. "I sometimes wish the village would never change and stay the way I remember it as a child, but change is good for Antioch and good for the community."

ABC Party, Shineflug chosen to lead Antioch

Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch voters elected the village's first woman mayor on April 20, along with the rest of her A Better Community (ABC) Party, completing her goal of becoming the village's leader as it readies for the 21st Century.

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, who will take office on May 3 along with the rest of her trustees, has become the village's first woman mayor in its 100 year history, according to Village Administrator Tim Wells. "Another woman ran for mayor, but she was not elected," said Wells. "This is history in the making."

However, Shineflug's notoriety will not detract from the job she plans to accomplish while mayor of her hometown, she said. Shineflug beat SWAT party candidate and Trustee Larry Hanson 1,150 to 864.

"I'm proud to be elected the village's first woman mayor, but I don't want that to detract from what we will try to accomplish," said Shineflug. "I want to work with all village residents."

Winning the three trustee seats were Trustee Ron Cunningham and Dorothy Larson and Mary Oldenburger, with each earning at least 18 percent of the vote.

"We feel our candidates are very qualified to serve as Antioch's leadership team," said Shineflug. "Each candidate brings a different mix of experience and talent to the village board."

The ABC Party's team goals for the next four years include economic development, community spirit, school funding, and improved communication.

Shineflug added that she was proud of the positive campaign run by both her and Hanson.

"It really was a good campaign," said Shineflug. "The voters elected us on our plans and goals for the village."

McDonald's celebrate arrival of Emily Ruth

Terrie and John McDonald are very happy to announce the birth of their second beautiful daughter. Emily Ruth made her way into the world on April 12. She was born at Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington and weighed in at 7 pounds, 14 ounces. Little/big sister, Maggie, called the very next day to announce the news. She has been excitedly counting the days till Emily's arrival right along with mom and dad. Congratulations everyone!

Arena up-date

To date I have received approximately 100 inquiries regarding an ice arena/exhibition center for Antioch. I was wondering how many of those callers contacted Dale Kritzer with their ideas on the matter? Once again, Dale's phone number is 395-8485. I have never met Dale, but when I talked with him a couple of months ago, he definitely seemed to have a plan of action in mind. How about it, Dale, is our dream any closer to becoming a reality. Please give me an update call as many people are waiting to hear what progress has been made.

Good news

The good news is I still have my good health and never ending sense of humor. The bad news is I did not win the ten million dollar jackpot in the Publisher's Clearing House Sweepstakes. I even had my acceptance speech prepared.—"I knew it! I knew it! I told everyone I would win!" Good bye expensive kitchen cabinets. There will be no month at a health spa for myself, Sylvia Vaughan, Darlene Olenick and Donna Schmehl. Dennis Bergl won't be giving up his precious evening hours to be my highly paid, part time chauffeur.

By not winning I saved $150,000 payment for Pictionary equipment from Don Bergl and sorry to say I cannot contribute a huge sum of money toward the GLS playground equipment.

Oh well, there is always next time!

What a guy

In my opinion, little three year old T.J. Wukitsch is truly gifted. He doesn't miss a beat and he keeps pace with many of Camp Crayon's five year olds. As we were practicing our Easter songs, we called upon the children to take turns hopping slow or fast like a bunny as the lyrics indicated. I put my hand up for a turn and most of the little ones became shy at the prospect of hopping with a bunny quite as big as Miss Liz. Eventually one of the little ones volunteered and Miss Marie exclaimed "I'm glad someone is making the sacrifice to hop with Miss Liz bunny." When the tune was completed my little partner and I returned to our seats.

We were just about to begin another song and Little T.J. raised his hand. Miss Marie inquired "Yes, T.J.?" He answered, "I'll sacrifice myself!" Thanks, T.J., and once again, "Out of the mouths of babes."

having antlers in both sexes. Now my story—I was talking with that "city" friend of mine and she mentioned her daughter has been plagued with migraine headaches. As part of the solution to her medical difficulty, her doctor told her to avoid eating chocolate. Having a passion for chocolate, Renee knew quitting "cold turkey" would be very difficult to do. Dr. Lizard stepped in with her words of advice suggesting that Renee should ask her doctor about eating "Caribou" instead.

My reasoning was it tasted like chocolate but may not produce the same side affects. Sylvia was taken aback by my suggestion. She thought "Caribou" was a meat and could not imagine what they would do to make it taste like chocolate. With confidence I replied that it definitely did and I personally had eaten "Caribou" covered peanuts and raisins. She found this somewhat disgusting.

I began to doubt myself. I excused myself to call the "All-knowing, all-powerful, allseeing" Woodchuck to get verification. "The Woodchuck" met the challenge and quickly revealed the substance to be "Carob." My return call to Sylvia began with these opening words "Does Close Count?" We laughed, rediscovered by past "Orderbs" blooper and thus a column.

Theatre time

"Same Time Next Year" is now playing at the PM&L Theatre in downtown Antioch. The cast includes Christina Heilgeist and John Rooker. The director is Larry Bersie. Anne Livermore is the stage manager and the assistant stage manager is Linda Bersie. Call 395-3055 for future show dates and reservations.

Twins

Five year old Jenny Schreiber and four year old Tricia Pringle are cousins who attend the Camp Crayon Program. Jenny is tall, light colored hair and very quiet and reserved. Tricia is short, dark colored hair and very bubbly and outgoing.

They recently enjoyed a family outing to see "Beauty and the Beast" on ice and returned to Camp wearing matching t-shirt souvenirs and even the same colored pants. Naturally they each wanted me to draw the characters that were on their matching shirts. As I sat sketching "Mrs. T-Pot" for Jenny she wondered how I would be able to tell the difference between her and Tricia since they had on the same clothes. I worriedly said "Gee, Jen, I don't know!"

Noticing my concern she gave me a few clues to determine their true identities. According to Jenny, their shoes were slightly different and they did not have on matching socks. I thanked her for the clues and assured her the information would be very helpful in distinguishing her from her cousin.

Once again "Out of the mouths of babes" and "precious moments to remember."

Stanton School

A Mega Skills workshop for families, teachers and care givers of elementary school children began at Stanton School on April 13. There will be five workshops in the series and enrollment is open to all parents with students attending the District 114 school system. For more information concerning this, contact Debra Nelson at 587-7311 or Maureen Dowd at 587-2535.

Good actor

Five year old Eddie and three year old Robby Lindstrom are recently absent from Camp Crayon. Upon their return, I asked mom which one was under the weather. She was undecided and indicated the Eddie complained of a sick stomach and went on to say that Robby seemed to have the start of a cold. In order to prove her right, little Robby entertained us with a fake cough on cue, as if to say "I think I need another day at home, mom!" Yep, these little ones get wiser each year.

The annual Grass Lake

School PTO Dinner Dance will be held on May 1. If you visited the primary hallway at Grass Lake School and felt as if you were in a rain forest, you actually were in a replica of one constructed by first and second grader teachers, Joan Larson, Jane Bolton and Marilyn Bowen and all of their students.

The replica took a lot of hard work and many hours to prepare, but the result of this group effort was fantastic.

Once again, teacher Barb Coia will be organizing the annual Storybook Character Dress Up Day. This fun annual event will take place the first part of May.

Students in grades kindergarten through sixth participated in Great Americas 600 minute reading club. All the children did a lot of extra reading and the following students were the top readers of their class: Kathleen Wong (kindergarten), Ian Mandigo (first grade), Krista Chinn (second grade), Dan Miodonski (third grade), Mary Boerman (fourth grade), Megan McHale (fifth grade), and John Gollon (sixth grade).

The school has a CB Base Station for sale, if interested, call them at 395-1550.

Two run unopposed for St. Peter School Board

Election of school board members will take place after all the Masses on Sunday, April 25 and after the 5:30 p.m. Mass on April 24.

There are two, three-year positions open.

Running for those positions:

Nancy Geyer has lived most of her life in Antioch and is a graduate of St. Peter School. Geyer and her husband, Bill, have two children currently attending St. Peter School. Eric is in fifth grade and Becky is in second grade.

Geyer is a graduate of Antioch Community High School, has attended the College of Lake County, and has taken extension courses through the Univ. of Kansas. For the past two years Geyer has been teaching for the Lake County Community Action Project at the Antioch Head Start School. She has also coached girls iceless hockey for the past two seasons.

Geyer has been busy in parish and school activities, including Footlights and the St. Peter School Family Assn.

Geyer's views: "I believe the education of our children at St. Peter School is built on a sound academic, moral and Christian foundation. I would like to lend my support to help assure the continuation of the quality education that St. Peter School provides by serving as an active member of the board."

Dr. Albert A. Bucar and his wife, Linda, are longtime residents of Antioch and members of St. Peter parish. Their son, Albert, is in the fourth grade at St. Peter School.

Dr. Bucar received his B.S. and O.D. degrees from the Illinois College of Optometry where he was granted an honorary D.O.S. degree in 1985 for meritorious service to his profession. He is president of Comangement Concepts, an Optometric-Ophthalmological consulting service and serves as secretary of the board of the Vision Education Foundation. Active in community affairs, Dr. Bucar served as vice chairman of the Antioch Bicentennial Commission, is a past president of the Antioch Lions Club, and has served on the Antioch High School and St. Peter School boards.

Dr. Bucar's views: "I believe that education is a cornerstone in the development of a child and that a Catholic education reinforced that development through the teaching of ethics and the child's relationship with God. I would like to contribute whatever I can to assure the continuation of the quality educational program offered at St. Peter School by again serving on the board."

Vanilla, a golden retriever, has opened up the world of communication for Kimberly Schultz, daughter of Sherry and Gary.

Vanilla helps Kimberly learn to communicate

Lakeland Newspapers

Kimberly Schultz is talking. Vanilla, a two year old golden retriever is opening up the world to Schultz, 6, of Lake Villa. Before she had Vanilla, Kimberly could say only four words. Now she can say 12 words, all because of how excited she gets when she sees the dog.

Kimberly is one of 2,000 people who suffers from Rett's syndrome, a brain disorder that somehow inhibits the person from communicating. Its main symptoms include excessive hand wringing and excessive retardation, which strikes 2 - 5-year-olds.

"We got Vanilla to help Kimber be sociable with other kids, to get kids into her world to socialize with them," Sherry Schultz, her mother said. The dog has brought others to her.

Vanilla is specially trained to respond to over 60 different commands. Vanilla will perform the role of pet facilitated therapy, with the goal of helping Kimberly to interact with others more easily.

Vanilla is from Canine Companions for Independence (CCI), a non-profit organization that breeds and trains dogs to assist people with disabilities.

"Vanilla can keep Kimber in one place by putting his paws and head on her lap. He can get her off the bus, take her backpack," Schultz said.

"He's overqualified. In the training session he's taught not to eat table scraps, Kimber dumped almost all her food on him and he didn't touch the food. At one time we had nine dogs in the restaurant and nobody knew they were there."

Kimberly, her parents and Vanilla came back to Lake Villa in early March after intense team training at CCI's training center in Delaware, Ohio. The team training consists of daily lectures, exams, practice and public outings.

"You're trained for what the dog already knows," said Schultz. "It was frustrating at times but it was well worth it."

"When she sees him she yells 'doggy, doggy.' If you try to get her to say dog, she won't."

"With the help of the dog she says eight words she never said before. Hopefully, as she gets older she can teach the dog commands. Right now we have to make the commands."

Kimberly is progressing well, she is one of the best cases of Rett's in the world, Schultz said. "I think it's those wacky animal therapies we do."

Schultz said some people with Rett's end up dying before they are teenagers, developing scoliosis, and even being paralyzed. Kimberly doesn't have any of these problems and hasn't had any seizures which usually come with the disease.

Kimberly spoke for the first time because of Dolphin therapy at the Dolphin Research Therapy Institute in Grassy Key Florida.

"If the child tries to say something, they get to ride on the dolphins out in the ocean. It didn't take long for Kimber to realize if she said 'ba' (or tried to speak) she could get a ride."

When she left the dolphin area, for the first time she sobbed. It was the first time she ever showed emotion," Schultz added.

The animal therapies have long waiting lists. The Schultz's had to wait two years for the dolphin training and three years for Vanilla.

"Vanilla's her protector and baby-sitter."

AARP gets a score

Antioch Area Chapter 387 of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) held its regular meeting on April 13 at the Senior Center in Antioch. Special guest was Brad Muse, AARP Director, Area V. He has accepted President Marge LaParr's invitation to install the new officers at the Installation Luncheon at Hogan's Restaurant on June 22.

During the meeting the fire alarm was set off accidentally and members were given a real scare until firemen arrived to turn it off.

Glen Peterson, tour chairman, announced that he is planning a trip to Branson, Mo. in July. Full details will be available at the next meeting. Robert Ullrich, legislative chairman, is very ill and is now at Victory Lakes Care Center. Dolly Spiering, past president of the chapter, has been very ill at the home of her daughter, Dorothy Leible.

Following the meeting, Jane Gallimore gave a very interesting slide presentation on Forest Preserves of Lake County. Gallimore also told members of the many interesting artifacts at the Lake County Museum which tell the history of the Lakes Region and surrounding towns.

Calendar of events coming soon to Antioch Area Chapter 387: April 27, catered lunch; Easter bonnet parade; performance by All Star Band.

May 11, nomination of officers; May 25, indoor annual picnic at Antioch Senior Center; June 8, election of officers; June 22, installation of officers at Hogan's Restaurant.

The Oakland School district has adopted the following school calendar for the upcoming year. The first day of school will be Tuesday, August 24, 1993. Kindergarten children will start on August 25. The Christmas vacation begins December 18, 1993 and will extend until January 2, 1994. Spring break will be from March 28 until April 3, 1994.

Combined board proposed

Letters of recommendation from both the Antioch Planning Commission and the Zoning Board of Appeals were read last night at the Antioch Village Board meeting. Both administrative bodies have recommended that a combined Planning Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals be formed. It has been proposed that this new single administrative body would be comprised of seven members, appointed by the mayor. Initially, the terms of office would be staggered resulting in three year terms. The members would be paid $40 a meeting.

Many other local communities have adopted this single commission approach. The purpose in combining the Planning and Zoning Boards is to provide to the citizens a more efficient single advisory hearing body. The Village Board emphasized that "this is not an attempt to speed up the necessary procedures".

On a related issue, Kenneth Clark, the village attorney discussed numerous proposed changes in Antioch village ordinances. The changes would amend the current municipal ordinances so that they conform more with state law.

Hanson, 37, of 12021 187 Ave., Trevor, Wis., according to police reports, was charged with reckless driving, speeding, improper lane usage, failure to wear a seat belt, and no rear registration light, after he was stopped by police for allegedly traveling 89 m.p.h. in a 55 m.p.h. speed zone on Deep Lake Road. Hanson allegedly attempted to elude police by turning down a side road without his headlights on during the nighttime hours.

Hanson was released after paying a $200 bond for the reckless driving charge.

claimed that the school district has been getting yearly increases through increases in assessed valuation of property and do not need additional funding.

Last month, the Board of Education, in what member Ted Axton called "the toughest decision I've ever had to make," decided to save student activities for at least another school year and go an additional $300,000 in debt.

By doing so, Referendum Committee Chairman Larry Petersen told the board that the education fund referendum would give the voters the chance to choose what type of education they want for their children. Now, the future of ACHS could be one of low student morale and increased discipline and curriculum deficiency nightmares.

"I was disappointed that the referendums didn't pass, but I'm not surprised in these economic times," said Schley. "The voters are taking out their frustrations on all taxing bodies, regardless of what they represent."

To make the deficit for next year less painful, the athletic department will eliminate all lower classes of athletics in all sports, impose hefty users fees, and will RIF assistant coaches from all levels.

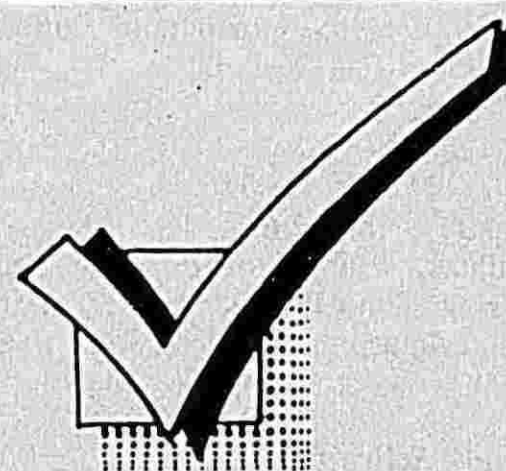

The football team will reduce its number of coaches from 9 to 5, basketball from 6 to 2 and the athletic trainer will only be available 2/3 of his present schedule.

The elimination of the junior varsity, sophomore B and freshman A and B levels will allow the varsity sports to thrive as the athletic dollars shrink. Freshman and sophomores, according to Schley, will now participate in the conference at the sophomore level. Student/athletes will be asked to pay $100 a sport to play, an increase of $60 from the 1992-93 fee of $40 per sport.

Other activities, such as band and choir, will have $50 users fees added in 1993-94, while other activities will have some lesser fee charged.

The dark side of the never ending soap opera is the board, according to Schley, will have to balance the budget by the 1994-95 school year, now without the education fund increases called for in the referendum.

That will mean the new school board, which could have four new board members on it after the November elections, will have to consider eliminating student activities again in 1994-95.

Army Corps meeting will probe flood control choices

As Lake County residents fill sandbags, find new ways to avoid flooded streets and businesses begin to make adjustments, one might wonder: Are there any ways to stop all this?

A full house is expected at Chicago Botanic Garden when the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and other agencies host a meeting at 9 a.m. Tuesday, April 27.

"It comes at a most opportune time," Phil Bernstein, chief of the planning division for the Army Corps, said.

Bernstein said input will be sought from various communities. The next step will include making a case for federal funds.

"The damage of the Des Plaines River is high enough that it is in the federal interest to solve," he said.

The North Libertyville Estates' flooding woes are being handled in a separate study.

"We are expecting the river to rise another foot and a half or two feet," Joe Hubbard, deputy fire chief and deputy Emergency Services Disaster Agency director Gurnee, said.

Hubbard said on Tuesday afternoon he was going to tell businesses along Route 132 to start to take precautions. One side road in a low-lying area next to the police station was flooded. There was talk of sandbagging the generator at Gurnee Grade School.

"This not going to get close to the level of the 1986 flood," Hubbard said.

The study area includes the Des Plaines River basin upstream of the confluence with Salt Creek to the Wisconsin state line. The basin is 480 square miles.

Sponsors of the study area are the Army Corps of Engineers, Illinois Dept. of Transportation - Water Resources, Metropolitan Water Reclamation Dist. of Chicago and the Lake County Stormwater Management Commission.

Planning objectives of the feasibility study include reducing overbank flood damage along the mainstem Des Plaines River and reduce the flood damages along the tributaries of Crystal Creek and Prairie Farmers Creek and other tributaries of the Des Plaines River.

Among the communities or agencies expected to be represented at the meeting are: Libertyville, Vernon Hills, Lake County Board, Lake County Div. of Public Works.

Fox Lake residents dubs riverboat 'The Foxe'

Marlene Brown had to make a quick trip from one end of Lake County to the other Friday, but when she returned home she was $250 richer.

Brown is the winner of the Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership contest, "Name the Riverboat." The name will be "The Foxe," if the Illinois Gaming Board grants the partnership the final of 10 licenses.

"I have been to the riverboat in Joliet," Brown, a Fox Lake resident, said. She works as a secretary for Z.F. Industries in Vernon Hills.

Brown was selected the winner from 900 entries.

Jack O'Donnell, president of Western Gaming Management, Inc., presented the check during a ceremony at Midlane Country Club. The firm will help operate the riverboats.

Chain reacts to flooding

Lakeland Newspapers

Heavy rains during the past week, with more on the way for the weekend, caused area beach front property owners to run for sandbags, despite of how different villages and townships handle the emergency.

In Antioch, Mayor Robert Wilton is wondering how his area lake property owners will deal with the flooding, which rarely happens in Antioch Township, except for subdivisions near the Fox River on the Chain O' Lakes.

"I really don't know how some residents on Loon Lake are going to make it if we can't get some sandbags to them soon," said Wilton. Antioch Township and the Village of Antioch, according to Wilton, are really not prepared for the flooding despite the number of homes near lakes in the area.

"We really don't have a problem like this all that often," said Wilton. "We will probably have to call in help from the county if the water crests this weekend during the projected rains for Saturday and Sunday."

On the other hand, Fox Lake residents will have sandbags available to them this weekend if they need them, according to ESPA (Emergency Services and Disaster Agency) Director Paul Jaskstas, who has spent the past week checking Fox Lake beach-area homeowners' property to determine if it requires sandbags to stop the rising waters.

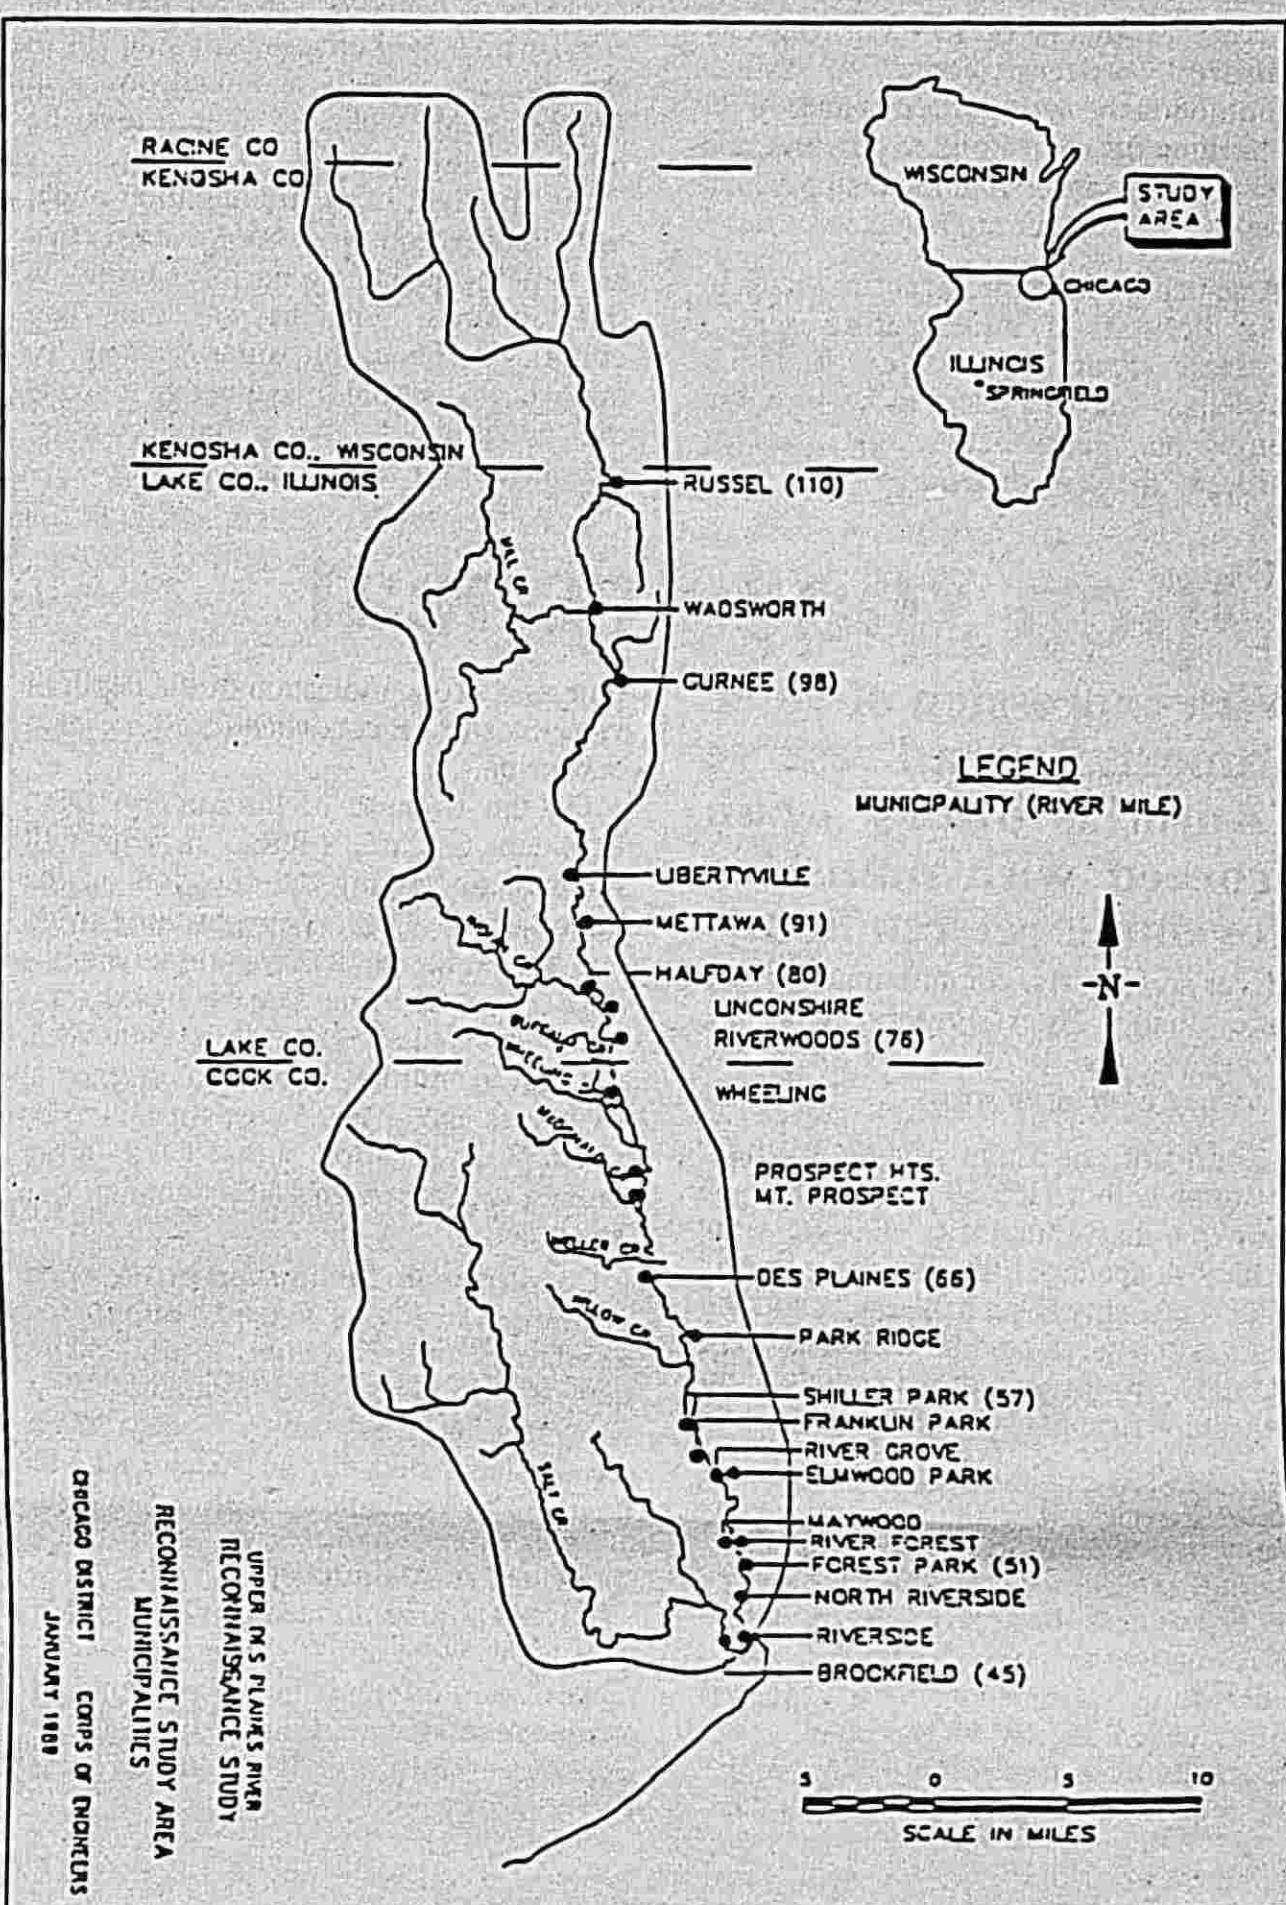

"A lot of people are panicking as they see the water rise in front of their eyes," said Jaskstas. "Yes, the water is coming up fast, but there are only a few danger areas in the area right now."

One of those danger areas is Atwater Parkway, which was at Lakeland Press time, under a foot of water with water rising more than 4 inches per day.

"There are homeowners surrounded by water," said Jaskstas. "But the problem is not at a critical stage yet."

Fox Lake residents can call the Fox Lake Police Department non-emergency number, 587-2151, to have Jaskstas and his team come to determine whether your property is in critical need of sandbags.

Other danger areas indicated by Fox Lake officials were: Eagle Point, Brandenburg Road, and the Stanton Point area.

Pollen, dust, mold, animal dander, dust mites. These are just a few of the common allergens which collect in carpeting, draperies, bedding and furniture. Allergy sufferers can find relief using the Allergy Vacuum to combat these household allergens.

Unlike conventional household vacuums which exhaust unseen contaminants back into the air and may actually cause an allergic reaction, the Allergy Vacuum traps harmful allergens with progressively finer stages of filtration. Its four-stage filtration system includes: a disposable paper bag, a washable embossed polyester filter bag, a disposable impact filter and a H.E.P.A. type filter that is 99% efficient at 0.3 microns (1 micron = 1/25,400 of an inch).

An added precaution, if the high efficiency filter is removed, the vacuum will not operate. This patented safety interlock system assures user safety and prevents allergens from being redistributed back into the air. This vacuum comes complete with tool kit and caddy.

If someone in your home suffers from allergies, asthma or respiratory ailments, the Allergy Vacuum is an easy and affordable solution which can provide years of dependable relief.

Doing it the right way

Time to focus on school districts that are holding their own despite difficult times.

Heavy thinkers these days (big city editorial writers come to mind) monotonously wring their hands over what they deem to be the "perverse and increasingly inadequate means by which Illinois funds education."

A segment of the intelligentsia seems to take delight in enumerating school districts struggling under financial burdens. The struggles, to be sure, are lamentable, because the most innocent parties of the struggle are children.

While the thinkers and writers dwell on the North Chicagos, the Antiochs and the Round Lakes in their ruminations, the vast majority of school districts in the black are ignored. Only a few of the districts doing well can be described as enclaves of the wealthy. So being filthy rich isn't the only criteria for rising above the state's perversity and inadequacy in funding public schools. There must be other reasons.

The spotlight of public attention ought to be focused on the school districts that are holding their own during admittedly difficult times. What they are doing right could well be highly instructional for districts we are told by the heavy thinkers that are doing so much that is wrong. Let's hear it for school success stories!

Open space repeat

With expression of voter support, Forest Preserve Commissioners can proceed with plans for November referendum.

Ever so gingerly, commissioners of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. are setting the stage to ask voters for money to acquire more open space.

Confidence of commissioners has been bolstered with a $15,653 professional poll showing that a majority of voters are willing to spend a little more in property taxes---probably about $5 per year---to add to forest preserve land holdings. For all intensive purposes, the district's land acquisition fund has been depleted.

The $15,653 might have been saved had commissioners taken the time to review results of a $45 million 1991 referendum for land purchases that almost passed. Commissioners basically sat on their thumbs on that one out of fear of an anti-tax backlash. A committee of volunteers almost carried the day for the open space movement in a last minute campaign. The surprising support was seen at that time as a strong indication of the depth of voter support for continued forest preserve expansion.

On the strength of the survey, Dist. President Colin L. McRae says he will recommend putting the question on the ballot again. That's the right thing to do and McRae has our hearty endorsement.

The $5 cost in new taxes, based on a home valued at $150,000, is about what the cost in additional taxes was pegged at two years ago. The $5 cost appears to be palatable. The poll showed that voter interest dropped when a larger amount was suggested.

Coupled with strong support for open space expansion is a ready supply of available and potential sites. The district's proposed land acquisition list was dismantled since the 1991 referendum, ostensibly because of lack of funds. The list could be restored in light of voter support and renewed confidence on the part of commissioners.

McRae and like-minded commissioners are on the right track. They have our support for a referendum in November to provide necessary funds for adding to Lake County's public lands in the Forest Preserve Dist.

Letters to the Editor

Non-smokers viewpoint

Editor:

Smoking is most certainly a right, but not at the expense, damage and violation of other citizens rights to breathe clean air.

As a health care professional, I have had to watch people kill themselves smoking cigarettes. It is no secret that smoking is hazardous to their health. Smoking leads to cancer, high blood pressure and a wide variety of breathing disorders.

I am not unsympathetic. It pains me to see people suffering from chronic illness. I also realize the hardship faced by people on fixed incomes to make choices between eating, medicating themselves and keeping a roof over their heads. I, however, have no sympathy for people who throw their money away on cigarettes as a means of amusing themselves. There are countless other healthy amusements.

I'm certain none will be as offensive to others as smoking. By the way, I applaud McDonald's Corporation for making their restaurants smoke free. I only hope more businesses will follow their lead. If smokers don't like it, take the drive-thru.

Dangerous over-building

Editor:

Here are reasons why I'm against further residential development in Lake County:

1. North Chicago's schools may be forced to close and other schools in the area will have to take their students, thus overloading them.

2. Many schools are on the state watch list as they are being forced to take on more students than they can handle.

3. Sewer and water systems have reached the point where they no longer can do the job. Likewise, fire and police departments.

4. It's hard to go a block without finding a home for sale.

5. Considering easy credit for home mortgages, if your husband or wife got laid off for six months what shape would you be in?

6. Wait 10 or 15 years to give us a chance to pay for what we have now. Just because there is vacant land doesn't mean a housing development has to be built. Developments don't pay their own way. If they did, our taxes would be going down instead of up.

7. Housing developments do not put in good blacktop roads. Many are three or four layers of oil over a thin layer of gravel.

8. Our present highway system has all it can handle.

9. What is needed is industry, which employs people, pays taxes and doesn't overload schools.

Overstated arguments

Editor:

"...right here in River City!"

Looks like we're playing out the Music Man right here in Antioch. I've heard the complaints against the riverboats as have you.

1. Declining morals for our youth and education system: The article in the Tom Tom (Antioch High School Newspaper) showed more insight into the problem than the opponents.

2. Environmental concerns: Look what we have there now and you decide if it could get any worse. In addition, I would hope the EPA would be of some help to us.

Widow's story a tale of opposite views

by BILL SCHROEDER

Differences of opinion about how government should operate usually is a matter of perspective. Now that the election is over, a Libertyville widow's story with partisan overtones can be told. Because of the sensitive nature, her identity is withheld. An employee of a Grayslake concern, the woman wrote this column:

I was a childless working widow when my sister died and left two children whose father had abandoned them. With the traumatic effects of being abandoned by one parent, and the death of the other, the children were extremely troubled. Along with this problem was my aged aunt who needed my care or a nursing home. I had no legal responsibility, but felt a strong moral obligation to take them all into my home.

Needless to say, it was difficult in every way. I had been able to support myself just fine. However, by increasing my family by three people, with the problems and cost of school-age children, and the expenses for my aunt's medicine, my life was turned upside down.

Although I was embarrassed, I went to the then Libertyville Twp. Supervisor Mike Graham for help. Not only was he gracious and understanding, he pointed out how much I was actually saving the taxpayers by not putting my aunt in a nursing home on public aid. He praised me for providing a home, support and discipline for my troubled niece and nephew. Mr. Graham made it possible for me to keep my family together.

When Mr. Graham left office, I was one of the cases dropped by newly elected Supervisor Ralph Swank to whom I never even had an opportunity to speak.

My niece and nephew have graduated from high school and are doing nicely. They may not have turned out so well if help hadn't been there when I needed it. Mr. Graham called it "preventive maintenance." Helping with the cost of food, clothing, medicine and shelter is not as costly as paying for teenage pregnancy, a nursing home or putting a wayward child in prison.

A touching story, to be sure, and a commentary on two opposing perspectives. Who's right? You be the judge.

OUT IN FRONT---The Rev. Bill Harry, president of Camel High, is going to be leading the charge Friday, April 30, at the school's annual benefit Walkathon, a 10K hike that has raised more than $500,000 over the years. Part of this year's proceeds are ticketed for a memorial for the late Bud Grover, Carmel's popular athletic director, who died earlier this year. Mighty fine purpose for a great guy.

LOOK ALIKES---Wauconda voters will have to take a second look at the new mayor to make sure "their" man got elected. It won't be good enough to describe the winner as a "village trustee with a mustache and a beard." That description fit all three candidates---Jim Eschenbauch, Lee Hemple and Chris Weiler. Talk about confusion.

DAY OF FUN---Now we know where business types stand on riverboat casinos. The floating gambling centers are on the list of fun things to do. North suburban chambers of commerce have banded together to plan an outing Sunday, May 2, on the Silver Eagle docked at Galena. For $40, fun seekers will get round-trip transportation to Galena, a tour of the historic town, the gambling cruise and a cocktail reception. Henry Krippner of the Libertyville-Mundelein-Vernon Hills Chamber of Commerce is helping coordinate the outing.

Need to dispel idea that Navy is not welcome

by JAMES A. HOTHAM

Serious-minded Lake County residents can help dispel a faulty perception circulating in some segments of our communities that the Navy is not wanted here, and that the annual cumulative economic impact of more than $1.5 dollars is not needed.

Another faulty perception is that the Navy is responsible for funding, or lack thereof, of federal impact aid to schools. The truth is that the federal Dept. of Education has that responsibility, as it does for all federally impacted school districts in the nation.

Great Lakes VOICE, a volunteer fact finding organization, has learned that the vast majority of people do want Great Lakes to be retained and expanded once the facts become known. This has been confirmed at countless numbers of our meetings with various individuals and organizations from Chicago to Milwaukee.

The Dept. of the Navy and the Dept. of Defense have recommended at a downsizing Navy needs to close two of its three Naval Training Centers. As taxpayer-ers we believe this is prudent. Great Lakes is the only NTC large enough to easily absorb the other two. That is why it has been recommended in military consolidation plans. It is a wise decision.

Lake County will be the recipient of this tremendous bonanza if there is widespread community support. An eight member presidential commission, the Base Closure and Realignment commission (BRAC) makes the important determination within a few weeks, after conducting public hearings regarding bases scheduled to be closed.

VOICE believes that the only reason BRAC might overturn the recommendation of Navy and DOD would be if Orlando and San Diego convince BRAC members that there is no widespread community support here. You can be sure those cities will emphasize three things at the commission hearings:

1. The proposal by the mayor of North Chicago to tax sales at Navy facilities.

2. The Highland Park publicity about wanting to carve the Navy housing area at Fort Sheridan out of its school district.

3. The North Chicago school board decision to take action to dissolve district 187 because of "inadequate funding from federal impact aid."

So the battle to save Great Lakes is not over!

We must all unite to dispel the perception that the Navy is not wanted here.

VOICE will be pleased to share its information with any interested group. Call 263-9400 or write to Great Lakes VOICE, 2835 Belvidere Rd., Suite 201, Waukegan, Ill. 60085.

Petition forms addressed to the Base Closure and Realignment Commission also can be obtained from VOICE or from the Lake County Economic Development Corporation at 18 No. County St., Waukegan, Ill. 60085.

Editor's note: James Hotham is chairman of a volunteer group organized to save Great Lakes Naval Training Center from federal closure efforts. He is a past president of the Lake County Council, US Navy League. Hotham is a retired Zion banker.

enough: I can't answer that, but that is not our concern; it is Fox Riverboat L.P.'s concern.

4. Increased traffic problems: We will have increased traffic problems with or without the riverboats mainly due to housing developments.

5. Increased crime rates: Same reason: our population is growing.

6. Lack of tax revenue: With potentially 1,000 new jobs and approximately $36 million of total tax revenue, how can this be a concern?

Frankly, I believe these complaints are much to do about nothing. The riverboat issue, in my opinion, has moved from the ethical and moral issue into the religious issue. I have been told as much by both sides. This is most unfortunate because of the lack of objectivity in reviewing the information presented by Fox

Riverboat L.P.

Let's be honest. Antioch's industrial base has been eroding for several years and our taxes continue to climb. We have many new housing developments, but no new industry. Attention must be given to this issue by the new mayor of Antioch.

Fox Riverboat L.P. is a first step in the direction of attracting new business to Antioch. Soon the commuter service will be up and running. These are good building blocks.

There are those in the community who would like to see Antioch remain as it has been. This is just not going to happen! Too many new people are moving in and will demand change and hopefully the Fox Riverboat proposal will be that beginning.

Sen. Geo-Karis co-sponsors bill to eliminate Com Ed fee

Commonwealth Edison customers in Lake County and the other collar counties would no longer be forced to foot part of the $70 million franchise fee the utility pays to Chicago, under a bill co-sponsored by Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

"There is a hidden surcharge in Com-Ed bills to all its customers to cover the franchise fee the company pays to the city of Chicago," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "This has been going on for years, even though only about a third of the customers actually live in Chicago and benefit from the $70 million the city receives. The rest of us are paying an involuntary tax to support Chicago."

Senate Bill 578, which Sen. Geo-Karis is co-sponsoring with Senate President James "Pate" Philip (R-Wood Dale), Sen. Beverly Fawell (R-Glen Ellyn) and Sen. William Mahar (R-Orland Park), specifies that franchise agreements like the one between Chicago and Com-Ed may be recouped only from customers in the municipality charging the franchise fee.

The bill has been approved by a Senate committee and placed on the agenda.

Pioneers! O Pioneers!

Curt and Wandalee Bickelhaupt didn't battle the elements and natives to Walt Whitman standards but they did blaze a trail through the video wilderness of the early 1980s.

Pathfinders in the video rental business, Curt and Wandalee bought a Video Station franchise in 1980. Today, they're still going strong at 960 E. Rollins Rd. in Round Lake Beach (east of the Jewel-Osco store).

by GREG MILLER

The Bickelhaupts opened their first store at Green Bay and Washington in Waukegan. They started out with 450 tapes, two VCR's — one VHS and one Beta — and a television. The parody, "Airplane!" was the current hit.

"Nobody knew anything about video — I knew as much as anybody did," Curt said. "Fortunately, at that time banks would lend money for video stores. They won't do that anymore."

"We were all big on movies. The kids were pretty good on the latest things and I can call on a lot of things about older movies."

Curt, a 1953 Northwestern business grad, was working in data processing consulting. While he kept his day job, the three children — in their 20's by then — ran the store. Slowly but surely, however, the companies Curt was working for were bought out by larger concerns.

"After work I'd come in and do the book work and ordering," Curt said. "Then, it got to be more of this business than the consulting."

They moved the store into the small strip mall on Rollins Road in 1981. In 1988, they moved from the middle of the mall to the present location at the front end of the mall. In the meantime, they tried out satellite stores in Antioch and Hainesville.

Video Station — the national chain started by George Atkinson — folded in 1982, but the Bickelhaupts persevered. Curt said there still may be a few other independent Video Stations around the country.

During the early years, they not only offered rental VCR's but sold them at a slight loss just to make a market.

"One in two people who came in had a machine," Curt said. "But only about 5 percent of all the people came in. It wasn't unusual to sell several machines a week. We didn't get much for them — we were just creating customers."

The Bickelhaupts don't deal in VCR's

Motorola posts record first quarter profits

Lakeland Newspapers

Motorola Inc., posted record sales and earnings for the first quarter of 1993, paced by a 33 percent increase in the company's General Systems Sector which includes the highly successful cellular telephone division.

Motorola, which has cellular divisions located in Grayslake and Libertyville, announced the company earned $204 million in the first quarter, up from $125 million just one year earlier. Overall sales jumped more than 19 percent to $3.63 billion, up from $3.05 billion in the first quarter of 1992.

The company's semiconductor sales led all sectors in total dollar increases with an increase of 20 percent to $1.28 billion for the quarter. Motorola's communication segment, which includes the Land Mobile Products sector and the Paging and Wireless Data Group, increased its sales to $1.09 billion, up 19 percent from last year's first quarter. The General Systems sector increased its sales by $1.06 billion for the quarter compared to last year.

Financial experts on Wall Street said, Motorola is riding a wave of unprecedented demand for its computer chips, wireless communications equipment, and electronics products.

Reasons for the company's success can be traced to its ability to compete globally without relying on politicians to get them business or political trade issues to open doors, added experts.

Abbott seeks their employees, retirees to join healthcare fight

Lakeland Newspapers

Abbott Laboratories, one of the nation's largest healthcare providers, will begin a "grass roots" campaign to reach elected government officials about the drawbacks President Clinton's healthcare reform plans.

According to Abbott's Chairman and CEO Duane Burnham, who addressed the shareholders of the company on April 16, the healthcare provider will be seeking to contact all of its present and past employees in an effort to reach legislative officials.

"We want to make it clear to the congress that price controls will not work in the healthcare industry," said Burnham. "It has never worked in our nation's history in any application."

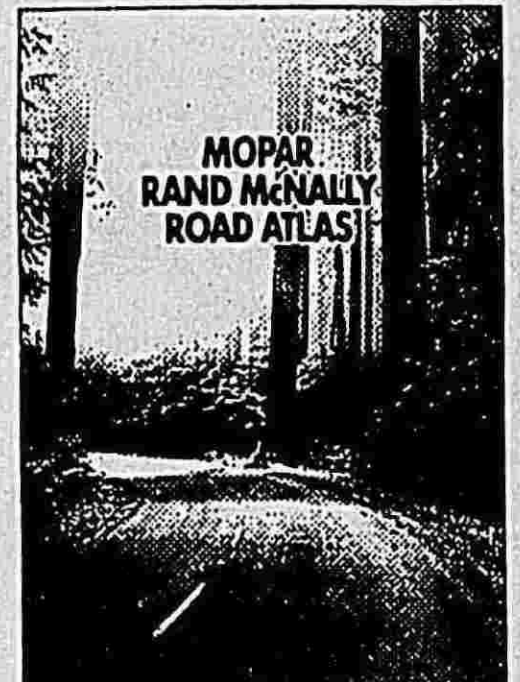

Burnham added that price controls will "freeze-frame" today's technology and healthcare for all Americans will deteriorate.

The Clinton Healthcare Plan calls for managed competition, defined set of basic benefits, and fiscal restraint (price controls).

"We will fight any demand for price controls," said Burnham.

Abbott pledges $1 million to museum's AIDS exhibit

Lake County's Abbott Laboratories announced a $1 million contribution to the Museum of Science and Industry, Chicago, for the creation of a permanent, 2,000-square-foot exhibit on HIV/AIDS.

"The overall goal of this Museum experience is to have visitors of all ages come away with a better appreciation and understanding of the AIDS epidemic and the scientific research being done to learn more about it," stated Dr. James S. Kahn, Museum president and chief executive officer. "Abbott's generous support of this exhibit speaks volumes about the company's commitment to improving human health," Dr. Kahn added. The exhibit will open in early 1995.

Kahn pointed out that the exhibit has three objectives: to enhance knowledge about the biology of HIV, AIDS and the immune system; to encourage the adoption of behaviors that promote health and reduce the risks of exposure to HIV; and to foster compassionate, humane attitudes toward persons affected by HIV and/or AIDS.

Abbott is a worldwide manufacturer of health-care products employing 48,000 people; some 13,000 employees work at Abbott's operations in Lake County. Abbott developed the first AIDS test approved by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration for screening donated blood for the HIV virus. Abbott has developed and markets a line of tests to diagnose AIDS and other conditions and is conducting research to develop pharmaceutical and nutritional products to treat AIDS and its symptoms.

Gurnee site to have new models ready by May

Construction of four model homes at The Coach Homes of Stonebrook in Gurnee are set for public viewing the first week in May, for those who would like a country-style setting with modern conveniences.

The Coach Homes of Stonebrook, 68 condominiums offering convenient one-level living, are the newest type of home added to the popular golf course community of Stonebrook. Stonebrook is a 200-acre community being developed by Gurnee-based Westfield Homes Inc.

The community also has 240 single-family homes, like the 2,380 square-foot Somerset, which is a four-bedroom, 2 1/2 bath home with a two-car attached garage. The Somerset offers a charming covered porch and a center-entry foyer with a staircase and guest closet, which opens to a formal living room on one side and a formal dining room on the other.

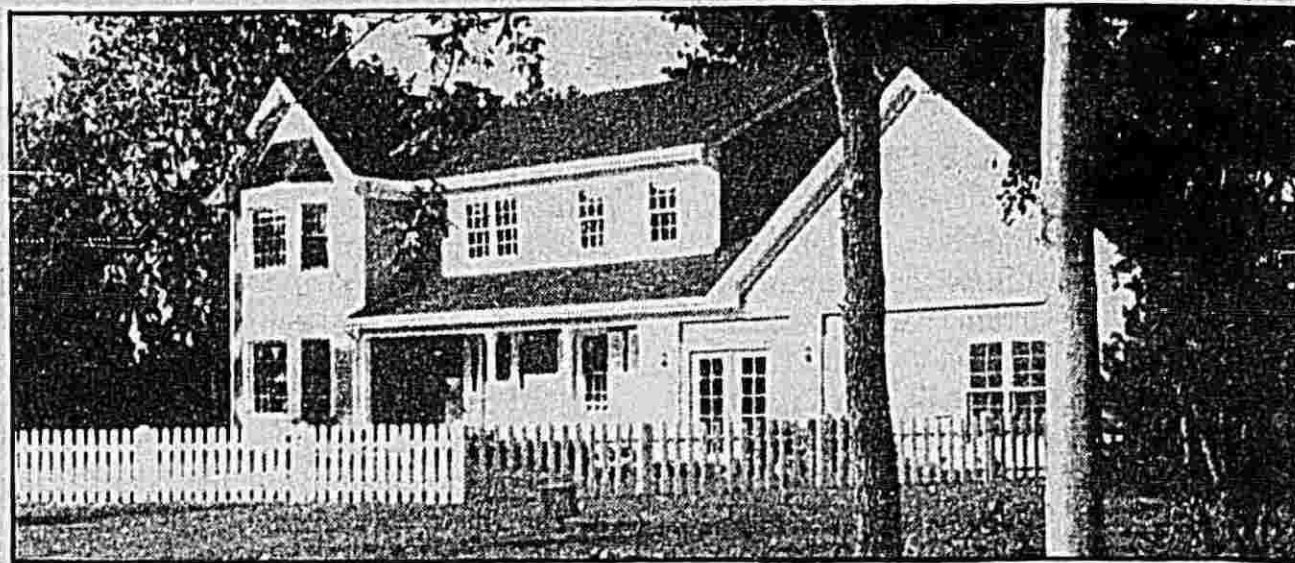

The Coach Homes condominiums, on the other hand, offer similar settings for empty nesters as well as value-minded professional singles.

"Maintenance-free, one-level living complements many of today's busy lifestyles," said Robert Siuda, senior vice-president of Westfield Homes. "The new models will demonstrate the outstanding style and value to be found in these homes."

The Coach Homes of Stonebrook range in size from 1,270 to 1,650 square feet of living space with such popular amenities as central air conditioning, fireplace, fully-appliance kitchens, wood decks or patios per plan and two-car attached garages.

Each of the four designs offered in the community will be shown as a model. The designs are:

The Abby, a first-floor design highlighted by a great room with cathedral ceiling. The Brookstone, a first-floor plan with two bedrooms and study or three bedrooms. The Chelsea, a second-floor design with two bedrooms and a loft or three bedrooms. The Dartmoor, a second-floor design with two bedrooms and a loft or three bedrooms.

The Somerset is one of the single-family home designs offered at Stonebrook, a new golf course community being developed in Gurnee by Westfield Homes, Inc.

anyone. Curt said when the machines became profitable, they were added to the offerings of the super chains and other stores. "They can sell them for less than we can buy them wholesale."

Curt said the video rental business really bloomed in 1985, but with more customers came stiffer competition. "We were the only ones — now we have to split with other businesses."

For the most part, video outlets buy the tapes and start making money once a film has been rented often enough to cover the cost. In the early days, the price of a tape stayed at the high end, but now distributors drop their prices by as much as 75 percent within six to 12 months of the original release. That makes it possible for the average person to purchase favorite movies.

Video Station has over 8,000 titles on hand. "Others may say they have more, but I doubt they do," Curt said.

Video Station even has a Beta format collection. "We probably stayed with it (Beta) as long as anybody," Curt said. "We stopped buying Beta in 1990. Most Beta people have both VHS and Beta machines now."

In addition to the usual fare, Video Station also offers adult films in a separate room. Curt said he's had a few complaints about the adult section but he maintains a strict 21-and-over-policy for those films. And, they wouldn't make adult movies if there weren't a market for them.

"As far as I know, we're the only ones who enforce it at 21. I've promised the village. I explain that to them and they go after the ones who don't watch it as carefully — I watch it very carefully."

"We have a bigger kids section than most people have as well," Curt added.

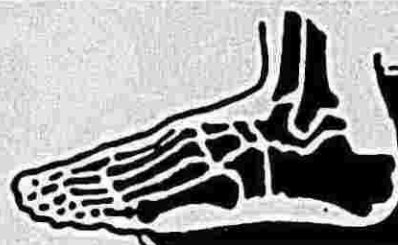

The Video Station also offers a lot of the older movies some stores take off their shelves after they've exited new release status.

Naturally, new releases are the biggest attraction. Current hits like "The Player," "Reservoir Dogs," "The Mighty Ducks," "Passenger 57," "Cool World," "Consenting Adults," "Candyman," "Under Siege," "The Last of the Mohicans" and "Hero" are the first to go, but members can reserve their must-see choices.

The Video Station is a mom and pop — and pups — operation. Toy poodles Peaches and Taffy are usually on hand. Faithful customers also will remember the late PJ, the Bickelhaupt's Great Dane, who would lean against the counter and look movie renters in the eye.

Curt and Wandalee are celebrating their 35th anniversary this year. When they met, Curt was actually viewing part of a double feature — Wandalee has a twin sister.

The Video Station is open every day except Wednesday and some holidays. The hours are noon until 8 p.m. except for Sunday (noon to 6). Call 223-1212.

Two Baxter homes compete for top sales in Lincolnshire

Home sales in Lincolnshire have become a race between two of the eight floor plans offered at the Fairways at Rivershire, a community of 107 luxury single family cluster homes in the north suburb, as sales totals turn the corner at the one-third marker.

"The 3,225 square foot St. Andrews plan and the 3,111 square foot Inverness plan are running neck and neck," said Sally Downs Henning, sales manager at the Fairways, developed by Baxter Homes, a subsidiary of Chicago based Baxter Group, Inc. "Recently the sale of one plan in one week has been matched by a sale of the other the next week. Presently they're even, each with nine sales." Baxter's other six plans account for the other 20 homes sold from the total of 107 to be built.

The community's two and three bedroom plus den homes range in size from 2,900 to 3,450 square feet and are base priced from $389,500 to $414,500.

The sales profile at the Fairways has changed dramatically in the past six months, Henning noted. In July 1992, the three bedroom Inverness plan outsold all of its competitors by a ratio of two to one. It is base priced at $404,500 and features a traditional design, with a central foyer and staircase, adjacent to a formal living room and dining room. The "casual" living areas, such as the kitchen and family room, are set at the back of the home. A spin on the traditional layout is a diagonal entrance to the 18 1/2 by 14 3/4 foot family room.

The Inverness also features a cathedral ceiling in the living room, and a coffered ceiling in the master bedroom and the adjoining private master bath.

The St. Andrews' greatest attraction is its volume. Besides being the second largest floor plan offered at the Fairways at Rivershire, the St. Andrews boasts cathedral ceilings in abundance throughout the three bedroom, 2 1/2 bath home, which is base priced from $409,500. Other pluses include a first floor master bedroom and a private master bath, both with coffered ceilings, and a library with a volume ceiling and clerestory windows. The formal dining room and foyer also have cathedral ceilings, while the living room boasts a coffered ceiling.

"Eventually this race has to end," Henning said. "There are a limited number of each floor plan available, and as time passes, the other models are going to catch up. In the meantime, however, home buyers are taking advantage of the premium sites which are left."

The Fairways at Rivershire is adjacent to the Marriott Lincolnshire golf course. Many homes feature views of the fairways, while others look out over lake or wooded views.

Homes at the Fairways at Rivershire feature Palladian windows, soaring ceilings and marble tiled "spa" master baths with whirlpool tubs and separate showers. Gourmet kitchens feature European style or traditional oak cabinetry, double bowl cast iron sinks, and ceramic tile or wood flooring, as well as Jenn Air appliances, including down-draft grill cooktops, built-in double ovens, refrigerators, dishwashers and garbage disposers.

Fairways' homes display distinct architectural features, including steep, angular roofs, clerestory windows, copper-roofed bays, brick paver patios, two car attached garages, and brick, stone, cedar or stucco exteriors, as well as recessed lighting and individually controlled alarm systems. Turn of the century street lighting fixtures illuminate the community.

Snow removal, street and landscape maintenance and an attended gatehouse at the Fairways is provided for a monthly fee of $163.

Fairways residents are, as part of the monthly fee, automatically granted membership in the Bath and Tennis Club, a recreational center on the premises that includes two tennis courts, an outdoor pool with a cantilevered deck over a six acre lake, and men's and women's cabanas.

Baxter Homes has built more than 1,300 residences in the past decade, with a total value of more than $170 million. The communities' locations range from Chicago's Loop and northern suburbs, to Phoenix and Mesa, Ariz.

The Fairways at Rivershire is located off Milwaukee Rd. (US Hwy. 45) approximately one mile north of Deerfield Rd., west of the Tri-State Tollway (I-294).

Office hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends. For more information, call 634-6355.

The 3,111-square-foot Inverness and the 3,225-square-foot St. Andrews, shown here, are the leading contenders in home sales at The Fairway at Rivershire, a community of luxury single-family cluster homes in north suburban Lincolnshire.

Hidden 'hit' in energy tax proposed by administration

by MICHAEL BALY

The current effort by the administration and Congress to devise a broad-based tax on energy is, quite simply, a bad idea—and its real impact is being hidden from American consumers.

Estimates of the direct impact of this tax—the increase in the costs just for electricity, gasoline and natural gas—start at $120 and go up for an average household. But these numbers don't include the hidden cost: An energy tax will raise the price of almost all American goods, so everyone will pay more for everything from milk to movies. These hidden costs for other products will almost triple the cost of the tax for consumers—and that's just the beginning.

An energy tax also means higher inflation, which will increase the tax automatically because it will be indexed to inflation. In turn, higher-inflation will lead to an increase in the cost of government entitlement programs, like Social Security, that are keyed to the consumer price index. And that means more overall government spending—contrary to what this tax is supposed to accomplish in deficit reduction.

In addition, such a tax would hurt U.S. competitiveness in the world economy by adding to the cost of manufactured products. Raising the cost of energy would drive manufacturing companies—and jobs—out of the country.

And that's not all. The tax would not live up to its revenue expectations. Ailing industries and others are already lined up to ask for exemptions—and some have already been granted for such fuels as methanol and ethanol. Exemptions from the tax are being discussed for the airline industry, for barge fuel, for "agriculture" and for the aluminum industry, among others. Thus the revenues that were to be collected to reduce the deficit will be much lower than first estimated—unless the tax rate on un-exempted energies and unexempted customers goes higher.

And that will mean higher taxes on average residential energy customers who use natural gas and electricity in their homes.

If imposing an energy tax is a bad idea, trying to collect it would be even worse. Intense jockeying will continue over exemptions from the tax and how and where it should be collected on each energy source. When all the exemptions, phase-ins and regulations are finished, a whole new government bureaucracy will have been created. Given government's tendency to grow rather than shrink, the cost of maintaining such a bureaucracy could easily eat into the revenues it's supposed to collect. It's also inevitable that disputes will arise over implementation and collection of the tax, which means court battles and regulatory tussles—and more hidden costs being passed on to taxpayers.

Any broad-based energy tax is a bad idea for America, and this version is no exception. Energy taxes are regressive—low-income and middle-income families pay a disproportionate amount of the tax. Such taxes are regionally inequitable—they penalize different regions of the country for their weather patterns in the form of higher heating or air conditioning bills, or for their wide-open spaces in the form of higher gasoline or diesel fuel costs. Once embedded in the costs of energy, a tax would be easy to raise again and again. And what happens to consumers if—as looks likely—an additional tax is layered on top to pay for national health care costs?

A few centuries ago, Patrick Henry and other early American patriots made quite a fuss about taxation without representation. They should come back and see how bad taxation can be with representation. Better yet, they should come back and convince Congress that the energy tax, just like the tea in Boston Harbor, deserves to be thrown overboard.

Editor's note: Michael Baly is president of the American Gas Association.

The fun menu features pizza, hot dogs, hamburgers, a variety of sandwiches as well as an excellent salad bar.

Chimpy's Libertyville is the second location in the chain with many others planned for the state. Owners Bob and Mike Boyer were extremely optimistic about their new location. "Our facility will provide the wholesome fun and activity that parents and grandparents want for their children. Our specialty is birthday parties and everyday opportunities for enjoyment for kids two to 12 years of age."

Eckmann welcomed Chimpy's to the area stating, "It's the kind of wholesome, effective business that adds to the services and quality of life in Libertyville."

Henry Krippner, president of the LMV Chamber, joined in welcoming Chimpy's Pizza Safari to Libertyville and was "happy to see the exciting business come to the area." Chimpy's is open seven days a week.

John recommends the different daily specials including pot roast, beef stew, stroganoff or "The Best in Town" broasted chicken. Don't miss the delicious breakfasts with omelettes, pancakes, biscuits and gravy or waffles.

Last year, John Psihos built a new restaurant, Flanagan's, on Buckley Road in North Chicago. "I felt there was something missing from the area. We needed a nice, cozy place for people to get together. I built Flanagan's — a restaurant with Irish spirit and Greek hospitality," said John.

As you enter Flanagan's, you'll be surrounded by luscious green plants, a massive wooden arch-style roof and comfortable seating arrangements. Flanagan's boasts a full-service lounge with over 20 draft beers and 20 bottle beers, a banquet facility for up to 150 people, a private loft dining area and an outdoor eating area with a barbecue pit in the summertime.

For lunch, try the chicken breast sandwich served in over five different ways, or try a gyros sandwich made with slices of gyro meat on pita bread and topped with onions, tomatoes and tzatziki sauce.

For the lighter appetite, enjoy one of the 15 appetizers including the awesome blossom, a whole 20-ounce onion rose cut, batter dipped, deep-fried and served with ranch dressing or the Mediterranean salad with lettuce, garnish and strips of char-broiled chicken.

Dinner is a relaxing experience at Flanagan's. There's corned beef and cabbage, alfredos, stir fries and great barbecue ribs. All this along with the traditional American fare such as chicken, seafood and steaks are available.

Flanagan's will be serving a Mother's Day brunch but stop by anytime. "Everyone is welcome. Enjoy quality food at a reasonable price," John said.

Flanagan's is located on Buckley Road (Rte. 137) just west of the intersection of Rte. 41. They're open 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. daily. Call 689-9062 for information.

Full Moon Restaurant is located on Rte. 41 just south of the intersection of Rte. 137. They're open 24 hours. Call 689-0733 for information.

"We want to show there's more to this motorcycling lifestyle than self-indulgence. We know our presence offers a meaningful message."

Ray Haworth

Lighting a candle so others may see Bikers search out compatriots with word of salvation

Face it. Sometimes life's a colorful, interesting, rewarding experience, and other times it's a windowless box crowded with too many commitments, tiresome people, and work, work, work. All you can think about is escape.

And you can. Theaters, books, and taverns. Holidays, shopping sprees, long walks in the park. Perhaps just a long soak in a hot tub, the telephone off, the children at school, the spouse at work, and your eyes closed against everything but daydreams.

Ray Haworth of Waukegan found his answer 37 years ago with motorcycles, and the love affair continues. But for Haworth and his wife, Gwen, motorcycle rides today offer more than a few hours of wind in the face, an open road, and a breaking away from the crowd. Fun and diversion alone are OK, they said. But saving souls, too, is better.

When they ride, the retired Marine explained, they ride for the Lord.

Haworth is vice president of the Ambassadors, a Waukegan-Zion chapter of the worldwide Christian Motorcyclists Association. He moved from a scrabbling adolescence through a 23-year Marine Corps career and continues a 31-year marriage with motorcycle keys firmly in hand. And if he's exchanged the gritty, in-your-face attitude of his youth for a love of family, church and convention, Haworth held onto a biker's need for a thrill.

And he finds thrills with CMA, Haworth said, though a richer thrill.

"When we joined (the CMA), we were looking for people to ride with more than anything else," he explained, "clean-living sorts of people with my kind of attitude and habits. But over the years, we found more. The CMA ministry matters, bikers talking sense with bikers, and I decided I wanted to be an active part of it."

The 35,000-member, nonprofit CMA ministry serves motorcyclists worldwide, principally through its 326 chapters in the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, and Australia, as well as in countries in Europe, Central America, and South America. Organized in 1975 by Arkansas minister Herb Schreve, CMA members attend motorcycle rallies, tours, and exhibitions, Ambassadors member Lajauan Osborne said, "to talk about faith, what faith's done for us, and what faith can do for others."

Tests of faith for CMA come many times each year, Osborne said. None is more challenging than the annual Black Hills Classic Rally in Sturgis, S.D. CMA members mingle with thousands of bikers from the so-called outlaw motorcycle gangs that meet in Sturgis. Attendance at dozens of such "secular" meetings, Haworth said, is an important opportunity for CMA. So is the CMA's prison ministry. Begun in several states in 1985, including Illinois, the ministry unites association members with inmates in state and federal penitentiaries and with former prisoners awaiting release in half-way houses.

Osbourne, active in the ministry with husband Dick, said gratification comes with every such encounter — at rallies, in a prison, during chance meetings — anywhere she can share her beliefs.

"We want to show there's more to this motorcycling lifestyle than self-indulgence," Haworth explained. "We know our presence offers a meaningful message. Our faith tells us so."

CMA collects no dues from its members—although members may contribute to the organization. So most of the association's ministry is financed through an annual nation-wide fund raiser dubbed Riding for the Son, held this year May 1. Chapters organize regional 100-mile ride among group members, then solicit contributions payable by the mile. Haworth said an estimated 35 Ambassadors will participate in the chapter's round-trip

Amethyst and the Magical Mum at the Little Caboose

The Little Caboose Theatre of Wauconda presents "Amethyst and the Magical Mum," April 24 and 25 at 1 and 3 p.m. at the Wauconda Township Offices.

"Amethyst and the Magical Mum," written by local playwrights Robert Carlson and Erik Hultquist, is an exciting original. This fantastic family-tale combines elements of a traditional folktale, and the magical wizardry popular in modern computer games, presented with timely humor to appeal to the whole family.

The story follows the quest of a young girl trying to save her kingdom. Along the way she meets a troll, a gypsy, a genie, a wizard and two queens and learns lessons concerning friendship, greed and responsibility.

Little Caboose Theatre has a policy of donating 10 percent of ticket sales from each production to a local children's charity. "Amethyst and the Magical Mum" will benefit The Children's Place, a pediatric care facility.

All tickets are $3. Reservations are suggested and can be made by calling (815) 344-0936. Groups are welcome. The Wauconda Township Offices are located at 505 E. Bonner in Wauconda. The building is wheelchair accessible.

run from Gurnee to Cedarburg, Wisc.

Last year, the CMA raised $366,000. This year, the goal is $400,000.

The money will finance the purchase and distribution of Bibles throughout such countries as Russia, Albania, Cuba, and China, as well as the buying of motorbikes for pastors working in remote districts of 15 Central and South American countries. The money also helps pay for the work of the CMA's ministry teams. Seven teams comprise each CMA chapter. Mechanical teams help with motorcycle maintenance needs during road trips, for example, and children's teams plan practical ways through which CMA members may minister to children during secular rallies.

Haworth belongs to his chapter's servants team, responsible for the "practical and physical needs" of chapter members.

"The job can mean almost anything," he said, laughing. "But, then, we are all servants here."

For more information about the Christian Motorcycle Association or the Riding for the Son rally, call Terry Freese at 872-6649 or Ray Haworth at 336-8558.

A Free Wedding In Jamaica

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Jamaica's "All Inclusive" SuperClubs are fast becoming hot honeymoon destinations. But instead of just honeymooning in this tropical paradise, more and more couples are getting married there!

In fact, more than 50 weddings a month are hosted by the Jamaica SuperClubs Resort "Couples".

And why not? At all three SuperClubs Resorts (Couples, Jamaica Jamaica and Grand Lido) the wedding is free.

All provide a free wedding ceremony, including a minister, reception, cake, champagne and flowers.

Couples has recently made a number of improvements including an addition of eight suites with Jacuzzis on the patio. Newly added amenities to other rooms include such things as compact disc players. They even added a bar and grill to the "Island" (That's the private nude beach enclave).

If you want to go all out, though, the Grand Lido is for you. Here you can get married on the same yacht that Princess Grace and Prince Rainier of Monaco spent their honeymoon! The yacht was a wedding present by Aristotle Onassis and is now docked at Grand Lido for weddings. Best of all, there is no additional charge for a wedding on the yacht.

Getting married in Jamaica is "no problem" as they say. You only need to be in Jamaica at least 24 hrs. before the wedding. You'll need your Birth Certificate and a notarized affidavit that you are single. If you're divorced, you'll need the original or a certified copy of your Divorce Papers. You also need a Jamaica Marriage Licence which can be obtained by the services of a Marriage Officer through most resorts.

'The Fourth Wall' cast ham it up

Critics Choice

"The Fourth Wall," at Chicago's Briar Street Theatre, is a new work by A.R. Gurney.

It's a modern-day comedy of manners, set in a Manhattan apartment leased by a successful businessman (played by George Segal) and his wife (Betty Buckley) who has decorated it handsomely but purposely left one of the walls blank. Her idea is to find a new life by breaking the boundaries of that wall.

This fourth wall—traditionally the dividing line between characters in a play and the audience—is, in fact, what the entire production is built around.

Stage humor dominates the play as the couple and two guests ham it up to an imaginary audience.

Unfortunately, "The Fourth Wall," is a one-joke affair that goes on much too long despite well-crafted intermittent doses of political baiting and a few Cole Porter songs.

Segal and Buckley give it a good shot as do the other two cast members, Jean DeBaer and Mark Nelson. But ultimately "The Fourth Wall" is a not-very-funny hodgepodge, an anemic divertissement.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A major change is in the wind. Where partners, associates, friends and even acquaintances have been difficult lately, there is suddenly a lightening up. You get to really talk it all through this weekend.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You didn't need a soothsayer the last few months to tell you life was distinctly out of sorts. But what has been really going on is that you (yes, you) have been out of whack. You feel better this week and start being your old self.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be more understanding of a child or loved one who may be feeling out of whack. You reiterate what is important to you. You may shake your head at some of the stuff that goes down at work and at home, but never fear, Gemini is here.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A partner reverses position this week and may do so one more time next week. One thing is for sure what is, isn't. You have some control over all of this, but you must find it within yourself. Chill out this weekend.

LEO (July 23-August 22) Wish upon a star this week and watch it happen! It may not happen exactly as you picture it, but it will happen nonetheless. Your nerves may be jolted by what happens, but your heart will be elated by the events that come down.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) Though you believe you are being perfectly clear, you just may not be. Creative juices are forced to surface when you can't come to a resolution. You may even shock yourself with your own ingenuity. Look to greater financial gains and get started now.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) One-to-one relating is highlighted this week. Be your loving self dealing with those in your life. You see just how freeing it is for you to express yourself in this intense and caring way. Hold on to your hat next week.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) FINALLY, others see things your way. However, a word to the wise: Don't count on plans sticking right now. There are changes left and right. Be careful about overdoing this weekend.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) Think twice before you put out some heavy bucks this week. You may be sure that this one is a winner, but don't worry. You get another chance next week. Zero in on interpersonal relationships, as you are likely to find fulfillment.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) Odd, you change your mind not once, but twice, in the upcoming weeks. Be smart and resist making authoritative statements. Career opportunities open up, and you may be overwhelmed. You may also be overwhelmed by your love life.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) Good news from a distance knocks on your door and makes you very happy indeed. Before you decide to head off for Nirvana, you must deal with a skeleton in your closet. And don't be surprised if another one pops up out of the blue.

PISCES (February 19-March 20) Magic seems to be in the air this week. First, something you wished for that didn't happen, does. Then, two unbelievable offers (business? pleasure?) suddenly pop up out of the blue. One thing is for sure, you vanish big time this weekend.

'Proposal' misses, failing to complete the fantasy

The movie merchandising moguls obviously hit their mark with the trailers and ads that preceded the opening of "Indecent Proposal." All-time high opening receipts of over $19 million attest to that.

We wouldn't be surprised if the audience goes down sufficiently for the next few weeks if critic's and word of mouth has any effect on movie receipts.

As far as this reviewer is concerned, the movie is well-done, well-acted and worth its big ticket price, that is if you are the romantic kind of lover of fantasy that made "Dirty Dancing," "Officer and a Gentleman," "Pretty Woman," and "Ghost," such unexpected big hits.

But "Proposal" falls short even in this category because it fails to carry the fantasy through and comes up with the kind of realistic ending that would have had Richard Gere flying away from Deborah Winger; Julia Roberts going back out on the streets and Patrick Swayze just plain dying without helping to find his murderer, as would have most probably happened in real life. The success of these movies proves that the bulk of the movie audience loves a happy ending, despite any immoral ridiculousness it might entail.

Those who say that "Proposal" is just an unfunny "Honeymoon in Vegas" would also say that we shouldn't go to see the formula love stories that have endured for generations: boy meets girl, boy gets girl, boy loses girl, boy gets girl back, because they're all alike. If they had their way we wouldn't have seen a romantic film since the silents began to make romantic noises.

Both movies are alike: rich man offers poor boy money for time with his love; ending the same way. Both movies are unlike: rich man is mean sleaze in "Vegas," wonderful dreamboat in "Proposal;" one is funny, one is romantic; poor boy comes to his senses in time to prevent disaster in "Vegas;" doesn't even try till what should be too late in "Proposal."

Robert Redford as the billionaire who says "Everything has a price," because he's used to being able to buy anything he wants, is a class act all the way. Despite his obvious aging, he's still able to make many a lady's heart twang even without the million.

Demi Moore, who has the ability to go from pretty plain, to stunning, depending on the camera angle, does well as the lady he tries to buy for an evening.

Woody Harrelson, who plays Moore's schoolboy sweetheart and husband, sufficiently fulfills the role he plays but for fantasy lovers all over the world, he is sadly miscast.

We would lay money on the probability that the producers of "Proposal," because of their realistic ending, have given up big time success for an upper mediocre one, by not casting a Tom Cruise, Swayze or Gere-type in Harrelson's part.

If one is willing to leave Redford, a great, handsome, rich guy, who is obviously in love, for a guy that was willing to trade his marriage vows for one night for $1 million, we would hope he would be at least a hunk who didn't show many flashes of Woody from Cheers during the pic. Let's fantasize all the way, not just part way, Dude! Either she stays with Redford, or she leaves for a worthy, just as impossibly marvelous adversary, not for Sam's assistant bartender. No impugning Harrelson's talents. Maybe he's just too good on "Cheers," or it's just too soon to take him seriously! What do we know, Dennis Weaver is still limping after Marshall Dillon in our book!

To those who are calling the movie trash, the moral of "Everything is not for sale," comes out loud and clear, more than we can say for many high-rated flicks that some of the arty folks love.

We rate "Proposal" three out of five stars because that's how we liked it, only two-thirds of it.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Appearing at Marriott 'First,' disarms and charms

In the United States, no show biz effort that hinges on the all-American game of baseball is ever all-bad or wasted. For the most part, we love our national sport and anything connected with it.

So, when the powers that be at the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre decided to revamp a baseball musical that flopped a few years ago, in time for the start of this year's season, they came up with a product that may not be a grand slam, but it's sure to be a local home run.

"The First," the story of the trials and tribulations of Brooklyn Dodgers' Jackie Robinson's debut as the first black major league ballplayer, just after WW II, pulls out all the sentimental stops effectively.

What better plot than one that features the courageous underdog facing the boos of the crowd, dealing with the prejudice of the fans, and his teammates, only to emerge the hero that saves the home team—and all this in rhythmic slow motion.

The score by Bob Brush and Martin Charnin is tuneful, often catchy, mostly forgettable.

Set designer Thomas Ryan utilizes the theater in the round premise to communicate a perfect baseball diamond, using the aisles for the outfield. Although the choreographed "ballgames" enhance the play, a member of the audience sitting in front of us commented that, "Dancers or not," some of these guys should learn how to throw a ball."

Alton Fitzgerald White is a most believable Robinson, as is Angela Lockett's portrayal of his wife Rachel, with their delivery of the title song one of their best. Another good moment for Rachel comes during "There Are Days and There Are Days."

Other nice musical moments are delivered during "It's a Beginning," and the "Opera Ain't Over," all cast efforts.

Names like Peewee Reese, Branch Rickey and Leo Durocher in the cast are enough to warm the cockles of any baseball lover's heart. Toss in some boogie, and some soul, you've got all summer to step up to the plate for an entertaining musical evening for the entire family.—by Great America gets new look

Six Flags Great America will have a new look this season throughout the park—including employee costumes. Park employees formerly wore uniforms, which have been donated to local charities. Over 1,000 pairs of pants, nearly 2,000 shirts, and thousands of other articles have been donated and replaced with costumes for the 1993 season. The new period-costuming will more authentically reflect each of the five historically-themed areas of the park. Six Flags is now open weekends.

Six Flags Great America is one of the seven Six Flags theme parks. Six Flags Theme Parks, Inc. is the country's largest regional theme park company. An estimated 85 percent of all Americans live within driving distance of one of the parks which are: Six Flags Over Texas (Dallas/Ft. Worth); Six Flags Over Georgia (Atlanta); Six Flags Over Mid-America (St. Louis); AstroWorld (Houston); Six Flags Great Adventure (New York/Philadelphia); Six Flags Magic Mountain (Los Angeles); and Six Flags Great America (Chicago/Milwaukee). Six Flags Theme Parks, Inc. is a subsidiary of Six Flags Entertainment, a Time Warner affiliated company.

Six Flags Great America is located midway between Chicago and Milwaukee on I-94 at the Grand Ave. East exit (Rte. 132) in Gurnee.

Milliner tops off country fair

"Hats are a means of expressing style," states Michael Borden of MLE magazine, and visitors to historic Richmond's sixth annual Country Festival craft fair Saturday and Sunday, May 8 and 9, will have a chance to choose a hat from a wide selection of color and style, whether fun, glitzy or pretty.

Spring and summer straws, including the popular gambler style, have been custom trimmed by crafter Heidi Hutson with fabric braids, ribbons, silk flowers, sequin appliques or gemstones. The Richmond resident doesn't limit her designs; there's western, Victorian, casual and traditional beachwear. Special orders are welcome.

The Country Festival craft fair is planned for Saturday and Sunday, May 8 and 9 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., just one block east of the intersection of Rte. 12 and Rte. 173, across from Hunter Country Club. Forty exhibitors from Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin will participate, showcasing an unusual assortment of exquisite gifts, beautifully hand-crafted quilts, one-of-a-kind silver and cobra skin jewelry, quaint folk dolls and more.

"I prefer working with classic straw hats because they're lightweight and offer several hot-weather advantages. As I sit at my work table, I begin experimenting with different approaches in giving a particular hat a personality, whether elegant, practical or whimsical," explains Hutson. "I remember as a child watching my mother work on her original blocked hats, which were sold at a number of millinery shops in Chicago. Feather pillboxes were very popular at the time; she patiently hand-stitched hundreds upon hundreds of delicate, tiny, often vibrant pheasant, quail or parakeet feathers. Now that I've started working with hats on my own, I have a deeper appreciation of her skill as a milliner."

Denise Dreher, author of "From the Neck up," reflects on the popularity of hats, writing, "A hat is an extremely powerful imagemaker. Whenever someone chooses to wear a hat, a personal statement is being made about the way that person feels, would like to feel, or would like others to think they feel...the wheel of fashion is turning and hats are becoming popular once again."

After attending the Country Festival craft fair, visitors may want to have lunch or dinner at one of Richmond's restaurants or visit the many unique shops located throughout the village.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Lakeland

the builder needed a nearby school in order to sell their homes. The McHenry School District did not want this burden. District 118 said they would handle the influx of children even though it was technically out of the district. The district already had a school on Greenleaf Ave, but they sold it for a meager sum. Did they do this with the thought that voters would give them a new school?

Admits Theft

I am an Antioch resident and unable to put up any of my business signs because of various ordinances. I am going to continue to steal signs because it is unfair to allow political signs while denying me, a taxpayer for both my residence and my business, the same opportunity. I will continue to rip down these signs and do not care if it is legal or not. I do not care if I get caught.

Good Job

I agree with the person from Round Lake Heights complaining about the signs all over town. They have a good mayor and there is nobody who can do a better job.

Excuses, Excuses

The person who complained that they paid $4,000 in taxes vs the $1,200 paid in North Chicago should realize that the houses in North Chicago are a lot less expensive. It might even be possible that the taxes in North Chicago are higher. Such taxes are based on the value of the home. I believe it is just an excuse to be a bigot. I think you have a problem with blacks, Hispanics, and poor people not taxes.

Hats Off

My hat is off to the people who organized the Lotus Shores new subdivision in Antioch. It has been long overdue. It is an awful shame that all of the other people who continue to pile junk and cars in the mud are not willing to go along with our program. I am proud to be a member and hope others will wake up and make a nice community for us.

Where To Go

I am really mad about the BEST advertisement on the ACHS referendum. These people made up and published numbers that are lies! They did this with malice, knowing readers would believe them. Their selfish love of money is more important to them than our community of children. If there is a hell, that is where BEST belongs.

Great Work

Congratulations to the Round Lakes High School Choir Department for placing second overall in the World of Music Festival in Nashville TN. Our choir did an excellent job performing.

Creep

Thanks to the people who stole Easter decorations from in front of my home. You stole from a handicapped person, you creep! I am in Grayslake.

Sending a Message

House Bill 1439 is a bill to not allow an asphalt plant to be built within one mile of a school. However it was not brought to the floor to be voted upon. Why? Is that because the road builders lobby controls many state representatives? Maybe that is so. If the zoning board permits this plant to build, the surrounding communities will be sadly effected. And it will send a message to the residents that the board does not think that much of your well being.

Get a Little, Spend a Lot

We drew a blank when we elected Swank. Our elected officials in Libertyville only work about 100 hours annually for large salaries and car expenses. They spend most of their time on other jobs. The taxpayer gets very little from these people for their tax dollars.

Showtime

What really makes me mad is that the Grayslake Times does not have any listing of the shows or theaters in the area. What do you think, no one in Grayslake goes to shows? Now I have to go out and buy another paper. Thanks a lot!

Editor's note: Each week in Lakeland Newspaper's Lakelife Section, under Lakeland Leisure, readers will find a separate listing of current running plays throughout Lake County, plus a weekly listing of movies.

Community Service

Even though I applaud your efforts with the debate you sponsored in Wauconda, you still do not print the voting records of candidates. Get the issues into your newspapers. You are supposed to be doing a service to the community! What are you afraid of?

Let's Consolidate

A way to keep the taxes from going up in the Round Lake area, while improving the school system, is to consolidate. Instead of three governments, go to one government. It would be more economical, more efficient, and more tax-wise.

No Gang Problems?

This is about the arrest of two teenage girls on a weapons charge. Allegedly, they held a gun to the head of a young girl. It was stated that it was not thought to be gang related. The very next day at a local fast food restaurant the police were called on to break up a group of young people wearing gang jackets. Minutes later, the police were called across the street because of another group. The rescue squad was called when someone was injured during a fight. Still, they keep trying to tell us that we have no gang problem in Round Lake Beach.

Gardening with children made easy and fun

"Come springtime seems like as if all the world's callin'. The leaves is uncurlin' so you can see 'em—an' my word, th' nice smells there is about!" The Secret Garden, by Frances Hodgson Burnett.

With time, a child's curiosity and love of the outdoors can turn into a deep, lifelong appreciation of nature. Gardens are a perfect place to nurture the appreciation.

However, as every gardener knows, tending the garden is not always a bed of roses. Young gardeners are quickly discouraged when seeds fail to grow after several days of watching. One way to ensure successful gardening is through the use of seed sticks and tapes.

There are a variety of products available—for youngsters and adults—to help take the guesswork out of planting. "Sow Easy Seedsticks," simplifies gardening for both child and parent. The seedsticks, which are in a matchbook-type package, have 3-4 seeds firmly implanted in the stick.

To plant the seeds, simply place the seedstick in moistened soil, pushing it in up to the printed line. While the germination period varies for each type of plant, growth usually begins in 15-20 days.

Seed tapes also help simplify the planting process. The tapes space the seeds an appropriate distance apart and ensure that the seeds aren't blown away.

If you can't find seed tapes, seed sticks, or special children's packets, use big seeds—corn, beans, pumpkins, nasturtiums or zinnias. Coated seeds are easier for small hands than uncoated. Give children their own garden space, and don't over-manage once you get them started.

If there isn't room in the yard for a children's garden, you may want to consider gardening in containers. Something colorful such as a wood or plastic barrel or bucket, or an old wagon can create a wonderful area for a child to garden.

Special child-sized tools and gloves, -available through mail order catalogues and at garden centers, also make cultivation less frustrating for small gardeners.

In the timeless children's story The Secret Garden, a young girl finds friends, health and happiness in her secret garden.

den. Children are naturally drawn to plants because of their colors and smells, and, along with the beauty of gardening, comes the fun of mud squishing through little fingers and the discovery of critters that dwell in the earth. Hopefully, all children will find friends, health and happiness in their own secret garden.

April showers bring what?

April showers do bring May flowers, but showers also bring lightning. The most important thing to know about lightning is that when there is a lightning storm, you should never seek shelter under trees. Here are some other facts about lightning:

- Meteorologists estimate that lightning strikes the earth 100 times each second.
- Oaks are reported to be the tree most frequently struck by lightning, while Beech trees are reported to be the least.

There can be 2,000 storms hitting the earth at the same time.

Know the ABC's of seeds

Seeds may look lifeless, but they are merely resting before their performance.

When you give them moisture, warmth and air, they will begin to sprout. Seeds must have all three ingredients to grow.

After the seed is planted and allowed some time to absorb water and soften its coat, it will sprout.

Using food stored inside itself, it will send out a shoot which will form roots that seek out food and minerals from the soil. Soon a portion of the shoot will grow upwards, break through the soil, and spread its single or twin seed leaves to begin creating its own nourishment from sunlight and air.

How to grow your initials

Here's an experiment to try at home. The things you will need are:

- A pot or tray with small holes for drainage, and a waterproof tray to hold it.
- Some soil-less plant mix.
- A spoon or pencil.
- A package of cress seeds.

What to do: Add the plant mix to your flower pot or growing tray. Make sure you have a flat, level top surface. With the end of a spoon, or a pencil, print your initials in the plant mix following the directions on the seed package for planting depth. Sprinkle cress seeds in the lines made for your initials—as evenly as possible—and gently press the seeds into the soil. Water carefully and wait about seven days for your initials to start growing. When you cress becomes tall, give it a trimming, cutting the stems just above the soil. You'll see your initials better than ever.

Clean-cut lawn begins with clean mower

The arrival of spring often triggers an annual house cleaning urge in many homeowners. Don't confine this urge to the interior of your home.

Your lawnmower too, after a winter of little or no activity, may need a good spring cleaning.

For instance, if you did not change the oil in your mower last fall before storing it, now is the time to do so. Over a long period of use, engine oil will thicken with dirt and lose its ability to lubricate properly. It's a good idea to change oil regularly during the mowing season, after every 25 hours of operation.

When changing oil, run the engine for a few minutes and then drain the oil. The heat from a warm engine helps make the oil and sludge pour freely for more complete drainage.

Cleaning or replacing the air filter also is important to the health of your mower's engine. Poor engine performance or an over-rich fuel mixture may result if the filter isn't serviced regularly.

There are three major types of air filter used in mowers today: the replaceable, dry-type element; the oil bath air cleaner; and the oil-foam element. To find out what type of filter your lawnmower has, check your operator's manual. Each type of filter requires a different method of cleaning, so follow the cleaning instructions in your operator's manual for best results.

Don't forget also to check the condition of your spark plug. A faulty spark plug makes your mower harder to start. If the spark plug's porcelain insulation is cracked, or its electrode extensively corroded, buy a new one.

If gasoline was left in the tank during the winter, drain it. Gasoline should never be left in the fuel system during storage, because it can break down over the winter months and varnish the carburetor. A fouled carburetor may cause starting problems and necessitate a professional cleaning job.

Lawn care specialists suggest checking the spark plug when changing the oil and air filter in your mower, after 25 hours of mowing or about every three months.

Spring is a good time also to sharpen and balance your mower's cutting blade. A dull blade frays rather than cuts the tips of your grass, causing the tips to turn brown and unhealthy looking.

So why not start the season with a freshly sharpened blade? You can either sharpen it yourself, or, for a small fee, have an experienced dealer do it for you. The professional touch is usually well worth the price.

If the blade is extensively damaged, replace it.

Here are a few more mower maintenance tips to remember.

• Clean your mower deck regularly to help prevent a build-up of dirt and grass clippings that can reduce mower performance.

• Check that nuts and bolts are tight to reduce noise, and reduce vibration that can damage the mower.

• Make sure all protective shields and deflectors are functional.

Lawn mower safety tips

Springtime green grass is a sure sign that it's time to fire up the old riding lawn mower or lawn tractor for another season of grass cutting—and a good time to think about mowing safety. The mowing experts have safety tips for experienced mowers and first-timers.

When mowing a side-hill on a piece of riding equipment, be sure to mow up and down the slope for greatest stability. If a slope is too risky for secure mowing, plant a groundcover instead.

Other tips include:

- Read the operator's manual again to brush up on proper safety procedures and maintenance information.

- Leave matches and smoking materials in the house so you won't absentmindedly smoke while pouring fuel.

- Never put your fingers near the cutting blade while the mower is running. Use a stick or tool to clear a clog.

- Be sure that children and pets leave the mowing area so they won't be in harm's way should the blade throw a stone or nail.

- Try to mow in a forward direction at all times.

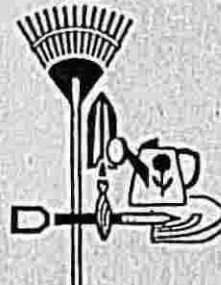

- Never take passengers. Teach children that mowers are serious cutting tools and not amusement rides.

These are important tips to keep in mind as lawn care season gets underway. Safety is very important, especially when using riding mowers and large lawn tractors. By following these safety tips, you will be well on your way to a better lawn and a safer mowing experience.

Keeping unwanted dogs, cats off the lawn

If you think it's impossible to teach an old dog, or even a young one, new tricks, guess again. Notorious for "marking" their territory, dogs frequently roam the neighborhood and drop little reminders on the lawn telling homeowners exactly where they've been. Needless to say, the sight and smell of doggie droppings, especially those you have accidentally stepped into, is extremely unwelcome.

Cats are just as guilty of leaving a trail, too. Frisky felines have been known to dig up a flower garden or two just for the fun of it.

Dogs and cats frequently roam where they're not invited, recklessly digging in lawns and flower and vegetable gardens. They also tear into curb-side garbage and use lawns and gardens for toilets. And, of course, if your neighbor's pet is doing this to your yard, you probably aren't too happy with that neighbor.

Some say that good fences make good neighbors. But there's an even easier solution: train neighborhood animals to stay out of your yard permanently. According to the experts at Burlington Scientific Corp., manufacturers of Ro-Pel Dog and Cat Repellent, following a few simple steps will help teach animals to keep away from your yard.

A good way to keep animals out of your garbage is to buy a sturdier can, which when covered, keeps odors in and animals out. Also, make sure not to put the garbage out too early, as this gives curious animals more time to sniff around for what you call garbage, but they call dinner. As neighborhood animals become accustomed to not being able to invade your trash, they will eventually give up.

For the pesky packs of neighborhood dogs who race across your lawn at top speeds, a simple fence may slow them down or discourage them from crossing onto your lawn altogether. And posting small wire fences, such as those made with chicken wire, around vegetable and flower gardens will usually deter cats. If the fence itself doesn't keep them out, laying chicken wire down in garden paths may discourage them from walking through.

Those animals which still choose to relieve themselves in your yard, rather than curbside, can also be trained to look elsewhere for a grassy toilet. A new product, Ro-Pel Outdoor Dog and Cat Repellent, by Burlington Scientific Corp., was designed to deter animals from digging, clawing, gnawing, urinating and defecating on lawns and gardens.

The product is a granular formula that can be sprinkled over grass and in flower and vegetable gardens. The smell is acutely offensive to dogs and cats and will keep them away from these areas as long as the repellent is present. It can be purchased at hardware and chain stores, garden centers and pet shops.

To patch a damaged section of lawn caused by dog urine, simply remove the top two or three inches of soil and replace it. Always reseed with the same grass variety as the existing lawn. Fertilize the entire lawn and be sure to keep the seeded area moist until the new grass plants have spouted.

Neighborhood dogs and cats will not be a nuisance if they are trained to stay out of your yard allowing you more time to devote to routine lawn and garden chores.

Hints for guarding garbage

Unprotected and improperly stored refuse is a magnet for hungry and messy animals. Dogs, cats, raccoons, deer—just about any four-legged scavenger with a sense of smell—can follow garbage odors back to their source, and they won't think twice about turning open and available trash into their evening meal.

To avoid this scenario, try practicing a few helpful trash tips suggested by the experts.

1. Animals can't disturb what they can't find, so whenever possible, put trash curbside the morning of collection day, rather than the night before. This drastically reduces the time trash is unattended, and animals are less likely to forage in the morning.

2. Investing in a new set of metal or plastic garbage containers, with tight-fitting lids is an easy way to avoid trash mishaps. To ensure that lids stay locked against even the strongest paws, secure them with short-bungee cords hooked on the pail handles and pulled secure across the top.

3. Coating trash, trash bags and cans with a liquid repellent which works on the principle of aversive taste, will keep animals from eating, licking and gnawing accessible containers.

4. When discarding meat scraps, bones or other aromatic leftovers, seal the waste in a smaller, plastic storage bag before placing them in larger garbage bags. The double protection helps lock in the odors that tell animals dinner is served.

Botanic garden offers April gardening tips

April may mean showers for May flowers, but before the flowers can grow, there are plenty of things that can be done in the Garden.

According to the Chicago Botanic Garden's Plant Information Service among the things that can be done are:

For outdoor gardening

- Plant asparagus, early potatoes, lettuce, radish, mustard, onions, peas, rhubarb, spinach, turnips, cabbage, cauliflower, carrots and all other cool-season crops.

- Plant strawberries and pinch off first year's flowers to develop strong root systems.

- Start tomato and pepper plants and garden flowers indoors for early planting.

- Plant mid-season potatoes in mid-April.

- Late in the month, begin to 'harden off' warm-season transplants, moving them from the house into a cold frame or other area that provides protection from harsh weather.

- Primroses, pansies, English daisies, Shirley poppies and Iceland poppies can be planted out during the first week. Be sure to harden them off first.

- Spray emerging peonies with a fungicide to prevent botrytis blight.

- Transplant and divide perennials as necessary (except oriental poppies and peonies).

- Remove spent flowers and fertilize spring flowering bulbs with one-quarter cup 6-24-24 or similar per square foot.

- Begin uncovering roses—remove mulch and use hose to wash away soil.

- Before buds break, spray fruit trees with dormant oil for insect control. Temperature must be above 40 degrees Fahrenheit.

- Fertilize fruit trees and brambles.

- Tie and train grapes and brambles to supports.

- If crabgrass was a problem last year, apply pre-emergent crabgrass control to lawn.

Indoor gardening

- Ventilate greenhouse, hot beds and cold frames on sunny days.

- Repot houseplants if necessary and begin fertilizing.

- Take cuttings of pot chrysanthemum in early April for fall flowers.

Answers to specific questions are available by calling the Plant Information Service at 835-0972 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. daily. The Chicago Botanic Garden is a 300-acre living museum owned by the Forest Preserve District of Cook County and managed by the Chicago Horticultural Society. It is located at 1000 Lake-Cook Rd. in Glencoe. The Chicago Botanic Garden is accredited by the American Association of Museums and a member of the Association of Science-Technology Centers.

Use of retreaded tires can help environment

Every year millions of worn tires add to the billions of tires already overflowing in our landfills. The use of retreaded tires can help to reduce this growing problem. And retreaded tires help conserve oil, since tires are mostly made of petroleum-based synthetic rubber.

Thanks to retreaded tires, North Americans are able to save over 400 million gallons of oil every year.

Retreaded tires have the same safety and performance characteristics as comparable new tires, which is why retreads are used by every major airline, on fire engines and other emergency vehicles, school buses, taxis, all kinds of trucks, and millions of automobiles.

Here are some interesting facts about retreads from the Tire Retread Information Bureau:

- Retread are available in all radial sizes and designs, including steel belted radials.

- Retreads are an excellent way to save money and are widely used on pickup trucks, 4x4's and recreational vehicles.

- A large percentage of scrap rubber on the road comes from new truck tires, and nearly 100 percent is caused by misapplication (overloading and underinflation) and not by faulty workmanship. Retreads are not responsible for rubber on the road.

- The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency now mandates the use of retreads by all government agencies that purchase over $10,000 in tires during a year. The use of retreaded tires on government vehicles (federal, state and local) is increasing.

- Cities, states and other government agencies can make significant savings in tire purchases by switching to retreaded tires, while at the same time setting a positive example for the motoring public. This not only helps save taxpayers' money, it also reduces the number of tires destined for already-overcrowded landfills.

For additional information about retreaded tires, send a stamped, self-addressed business size envelope to the Tire Retread Information Bureau, Dept. ED93, 900 Weldon Grove, Pacific Grove, CA 93950.

Botanic gardens presents orchid show April 24, 25

The Illinois Orchid Society will present its annual Spring Orchid Show, "Orchids for Everyone" Saturday and Sunday, April 24 and 25 at the Botanic Garden.

More than 500 orchids in all colors of the rainbow and sizes from "dinner plate" to those small enough to need a magnifying glass will be on display in the main exhibition hall at the Botanic Garden, 1000 Lake-Cook Rd., Glencoe.

Show hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on both days. Special hours for photographers are 7:30 to 9 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Once the Chicago area experiences seasonal temperatures on a regular basis, the bulb and perennial gardens should offer a variety of color photo opportunities. In addition to the Orchid Show there is a variety of activities planned around Earth Month at the Botanic Garden during April.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I am writing to you because I am tired of having doors closed in my face with every interview I go on. I have gotten to a point where I feel I am being discriminated against. I am an educated person with a masters degree, searching for an executive secretarial position for the past eight months. I was released from my last employer for reasons of discrimination which I am currently with lawyers in court over. I believe he is hindering my chances for employment with each and every reference that he is called upon to give. I tell potential employers about this situation because I choose to be up front and honest with them. Needless to say I have been turned down for every job. Perhaps because of my physical appearance, or my age; I'm not sure. Some companies I never hear back from, some send letters basically saying, "thanks but no thanks!" Do you have any suggestions? J.H. - Lake Villa

A: Dear J.H. First off, you need a bit of an attitude adjustment when it comes to coping with rejection in the interviewing process, and most likely some career counseling. But you need to stop blaming others for the fact that you are not employed and rather analyze and rectify the situation. By the tone of your letter I can tell that you are somewhat bitter and I wonder whether or not you are carrying that attitude in to your interviews. Next, you failed to mention what type of masters degree you have and whether or not it is business related. I can tell you that while a masters degree is quite an accomplishment, perhaps it gets the interviewer to thinking that you are overqualified for the position, and the first chance you have to utilize that degree, you'll be off and running elsewhere. Most employers these days look for employees they can invest in, so perhaps you should play down your masters degree in an interview if it is not related to the position at hand. It would be more beneficial to concentrate on the reason why you have chosen to be an executive secretary and how fulfilling that is to you. The next piece of advice is for you to stop using the words "discrimination", "lawyers" and "courts" in an interview when referring to your former employer. Trust the fact that you will intimidate any potential employer and thus have the door closed before it even opens. Re-align your interviewing techniques, accentuate the positive and alleviate the negative and perhaps the next call you receive from an employer will be to offer you the job! Good luck!

YOU ALWAYS HIT THE MARK WITH THE CLASSIFIEDS

1993 Dream Home Survey

Experts in any field are generally in heavy demand. That's a given.

But what you may not realize is that you're an expert of sorts when it comes to home design. And you're the foremost expert when it comes to selecting the features and amenities you would include (and leave out) of the home of your dreams. Nobody else can provide that information with any degree of certainty.

Landmark Designs, in partnership with Lakeland Publishers, Inc., invites readers to share their expertise by participating in the Dream Home survey.

The form makes the process easy and fun, whether you're planning to build a home or not. It includes the same types of questions architects, designers and real estate agents ask to determine their clients' wants and needs.

Participants are also encouraged to attach letters, sketches and any comments or inspirations that come to mind. Throughout the 16 years Landmark has been designing homes, readers have always been one of the richest sources of new ideas.

After the results are tallied, Landmark will design a national 1993 Dream Home. In addition, because area preferences vary widely, Landmark will also custom design a home to meet the exact specifications selected by readers of this newspaper. Where response is high, Landmark will come up with three plans - small, medium and large.

Mail forms to Landmark Designs, Inc. Dept. LP60, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. To reserve a personal copy of all the 1993 Dream Homes, include $4 to cover the cost of postage and printing. Be sure to include your name and mailing address.

Define Positive

I just read in the Antioch High School's Tom-Tom about an interview with Larry Hansen. He said that Antioch is just coming off a very positive Centennial experience. I don't know what his definition of positive is but the closing of Quaker Industries, Regal China, Northlake Engineering, Globe Department Store, King's Drugs, Jackie's Hallmark, Radio Shack, TCBY Yogurt, Antioch Family Restaurant, and Lake View Hills Racquetball Club does not look very positive to me.

Fox Lake Dying

Fox Lake Press! Ha, ha, no news about Fox Lake. Are you afraid of local politicians? The town is dying. Political policies of annexing and building are driving people away. All the residents of surrounding towns are boycotting us.

Hunt Lays Egg

I have a gripe about the Easter egg hunt Saturday. It was a big farce. There were only two people watching the field and the kids were way over the line when the hunt began. The kids were stepping on eggs, kicking them, and just generally destroying them. There was a lot of money wasted and a lot of damage done. It was stupid that there was no one to supervise the kids.

Help Instead of Complain

Residents do not pay taxes on Williams Park. They do pay association fees of $25 a year, one of the lowest in the area. This fee covers garbage pick-up, snow removal, street maintenance, and other vital services. If neighbors have problems they can certainly volunteer to serve on the park board. Anyone has the option to make a complaint, but they also have the option to do something about it.

Buckle Up In Vans

This is to my friend. You own a van. I feel that your son's life is in danger. You allow him to run around your van without a seatbelt. When I asked you about it you told me that even as a baby he never liked to use his carseat. My friend, and all other van owners, please, please put seatbelts on your children.

Wall Them In

Antioch was there before any of the other communities were dots on the map. The Lake Villa snobs started picking on Round Lake Beach and have now turned their attention to Antioch. Maybe we should build a big wall around Lake Villa and keep them all in there. I grew up in Lake Villa and Lindenhurst, but I wouldn't move back there for all the money in the world.

Try Stopping

I am very tired of watching cars on Saddle Hill Road in Green Oaks just drive through several stop signs. There are many children playing near the street. Don't you people have any regard for the safety of these children or anyone else? I am equally tired of the lack of patrolling done by the Lake County Sheriffs.

Horrifying Find

I would like to say that the discovery of the human fetus in the glove compartment was disgusting. Abortion is bad enough, but hiding them in a glove compartment is terrible.

Thanks Lipservice

I want to applaud lipservice. I just love it. It has more honesty and immediacy than you get in the letters to the editor. It is like sitting down to a cup of coffee with a friend and hearing exactly what that person thinks.

Make Republicans Pay

Antioch school has not been overspending. We are behind in money because the tax dollars have not been given to Antioch. We should be receiving 2 million dollars, but are getting only $900,000. Maybe the Republicans should pay, since they are responsible.

No Dual School

Why didn't the officials do any research before proposing a dual system high school? If they had done any checking they would have discovered that it never works. If they are going to build a new school, it has to be a four year school. Let's do it the right way.

Spending For The Zoo?

I am an Antioch mom and want to know why they continue to take Juniors and Seniors to the zoo and the museum when they could be buying chairs for the students to sit on. Busing teachers and students downtown is ridiculous. Our tax money should be going elsewhere.

Crowded Not Racist

I am sick of people saying that Libertyville is racist. Libertyville High School just doesn't have enough room. There is no way for Libertyville High to accommodate all of the kids from North Chicago.

ReThink, Think, Think

To the person who believes that burying Con Ed lines will increase EMF's: if done correctly, burying lines can almost eliminate EMF's. Also, in the long term, it will cost less. There will be less maintenance, outages, and service necessary, thereby lowering the cost. Con Ed has tried to tell us that the right-of-way that they own in front of your house actually increases the value of your home. You Think, Think, Think instead of believing whatever Con Ed tell you.

Sign Sightings

The riverboat people say that they will not clutter up the countryside with signs. I have seen all of the support the riverboat signs everywhere. What a lie!

Stop Following Us

I hope that after the election, some of the stuff going on in Lindenhurst with the police department will stop. Police cars are sneaking up and following cars for long distances for absolutely no reason. Two other cars beside mine had this happen Saturday night. The police followed them for while, then passed them and begin to hit the brakes. When the police tired of this, it took off to follow some other car. I hope when the new police chief takes over this kind of thing will stop.

Now Get Us There

Antioch Centennial Park is wonderful. Now, how do we go about getting sidewalks for Anita Street? Pedestrians need a safe way to get to the park. I hope we don't have to wait until some innocent child is killed before we do something about it.

Life Savers

I am an elderly woman who has lived in Round Lake Beach for 36 years. Monday, March 29 at 4:00 AM I was in need of the rescue squad. I called 911 and was in dire need of air. The rescue squad responded very promptly and transported me safely to St. Therese Hospital. I am sure this efficient service extended my life. There is not enough thanks for this crew! They seemed to know just what to do, even though many people have never heard of my condition. Again, my thanks and praise.

Renewal of Faith

My faith in young people was renewed by the three seventh grade boys from Wauconda who found the cashiers check of $237.91 and returned it to the owner. You hear so much about teenagers with no respect for others who think only about themselves. I wish there were more youngsters being taught honest and decent values by their parents. These Wauconda parents are certainly to be commended.

Lunch Is On Him

Thank you, whoever you are, for getting into trouble at the same time I was discovered by the authorities to have an expired plate and stickers. I was stopped on the road by an officer and when he called to verify information, he had to take off because of some other illegal activity. I was able to get off without a ticket. So, whoever was involved in that illegal activity, I owe you lunch.

Champions

Congratulations to the sixth and seventh grade iceless hockey team, the Black Hawks. They were the overall league champions. The boys did a great job and worked together. Thanks to the coaches too.

I Object

I am a candidate for Shields Township trustee. I object to your April 9 article which stated that Coleman was dropped by the trustee candidates. This is not true. She filed as an independent. Your statement is false.

What's In A Name?

I am from Island Lake and my big beef is why the police there do not do anything to people who do not purchase vehicle tax stickers. Also, why isn't there anything done about people who park their vehicles in parking lots that are for business? Do these people know some one? Or, do that just have to have a certain last name to get away with it?

Very Tacky

I am disgusted with the propaganda Antioch High School put out in support of the tax increase. We all received a newsletter called "Head Lines" in the mail. That was an insult to our intelligence and reminded me of the commercials seen on TV. Very tacky!

Loved Letter

I would like to say a big thank you to David J. Erickson from Lindenhurst for his letter to the editor regarding Ted Axton. Someone has finally put Ted in his place. Ted should quit the Antioch school board and become a park ranger since he spends so much time there at night protecting it from vandals.

Stop Picking On Him

I am concerned about Round Lake school district politics. Mary Davis, the assistant superintendent who will be taking over upon the retirement of Bob Sherman is putting her own group together. She is also picking on a few good people. Larry Erickson, the facility coordinator, does a very good job. However, Mary seems to have something against him. She is trying to drive him out and I do not think that is right.

Just One Question

I am a resident of Wauconda and my children go to district 118. If Mr. Leroy Hemple is so proud of the school and teachers, why does his son go elsewhere? Please answer.

Get The Pen Out

This gripe is to Mr. Schroeder. One of his classmates did not get even one line of acknowledgment in your paper. Here is a boy who went all through high school with you and not one word about Jack Bane. Don't you think you ought to get your pen out? Of course, I am from Libertyville.

Out Of Service

Don't the police work for us anymore? Recently I took a child over to the Antioch police station to file charges. We had to stand around the little lobby for twenty minutes while waiting for a County Sheriff. At one point the child had to go to the bathroom and we were told to go across the street to the gas station! It wasn't like we did not have business there. Couldn't they put a couple of chairs to sit on? By the way, the County Sheriff was wonderful!

Boats Are For The Birds

I have a complaint against the forest preserve. They are using our tax money to develop Sterling Lake. They are not going to allow fisherman to use their own boats to fish. Instead, they want to rent boats there and make money off fishermen. This is for the birds. I have my own boat and want to fish on the lake. There are several petitions circulating and taxpayers are signing them. (Continued on page 50)

Master Recyclers to train in waste reduction strategies

Whether we call it garbage, solid waste, or trash, the disposal of it has become a major problem in Lake County, and the nation. In our "throw-away" society, each of us creates a ton of garbage each year, and unless we learn how to control our wastefulness, it will bury us!

To help solve this "garbage dilemma", twenty Lake County residents will be selected to be trained as "Master Recyclers." However, they will learn much more than how to just "recycle."

Their 40 hour training will provide them with skills to help others in their community and the business where they work, to become environmentally alert consumers who reject products that are over-packaged, not made from recycled materials, or are unrecyclable. They will also learn how to implement a variety of waste management strategies; how to do backyard composting; the basics of the Model Community project; the fundamentals of conducting a waste audit, and proper methods and alternatives to the disposal of hazardous household waste.

Since businesses and institutions produce about one-half the solid waste in the county, a major emphasis of the training will be on ways to assist businesses and multifamily dwellings to implement effective waste reduction strategies. Representatives from groups that have already developed successful programs, by making changes in their day-to-day operations, will share their experiences.

Educators from the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, County and State authorities, and representatives from community groups, will assist in the training, which will run for six consecutive Wednesdays, starting June 10.

In exchange for the 40 hours of free training, each "Master Recycler" is required to "pay back" 60 hours of volunteer service to their community or place of business, in a manner they design themselves, to help others learn effective source reduction methods.

Those interested in learning more about the training or wishing an application, may contact the Grayslake Unit Office at 223-8627.

Keep It Up

At long last the Lakeland Newspapers have provided us with the means to voice our opinions without fear of losing our jobs. I look forward to reading all the fresh thoughts in lipservice. I hope that this service will be continued.

Where To Go

I was wondering why we have the number one park for children in Antioch, but we do not have any sidewalks to get to there. It seems that the more affluent streets have sidewalks in town and the other areas do not. The village of Antioch should review this and at least put sidewalks on Anita Street. Sidewalks should go places or they shouldn't be there at all!

Not Interested

This is to the guy in Round Lake Beach who can't get it through his head I am not interested in him. I am taking out this "advertisement" just for you Bob. I'm not interested.

Welcome

We want to welcome a new family into the Round Lake Beach area. Welcome to Round Lake and I hope you have a great time here.

Working But Wiser

I am a former Antioch High School student. While I was there, I did not care about my education. But now that I am an adult living in a world that requires me to work, I realize how important those four years of high school are. Now, I am twenty-two and just entering college. I should have prepared myself better for the future. It seems to me that current students care much more about their future and I think it is really great.

Not Hoodlums

I am from Lake Villa and really object to the person who said "Call the Mayor". In my mind I have always defended the students from North Chicago but I have just read that someone called the students of Round Lake, Lake Villa, and Fox Lake hoodlums. Get real. You are doing the same thing that person from Libertyville did. We are not hoodlums here.

Where Are They?

The person who called our students hoodlums needs to go back and check his statistics before opening his mouth. I would like to know where the hoodlums really are! I'm from Lake Villa.

Dream Is Nightmare

We finally moved into our dream home in Mundelein. Our youngest child was in high school. I thought everything was going to be wonderful. So far we have had our mailbox bashed, someone tore up our lawn with their car, not to mention the numerous arrests in the high school. No one seems to care. We moved from Chicago to be safe. I am beginning to wonder why!

Thanking The Defenders

I would like to applaud the people who are defending the kids from North Chicago. I think it is terrible the way people are stereotyping the children just because of where they live. People from Libertyville are snobs and they only want snobby kids in their school. That is really immature and childish.

Difference of Opinion

It makes me mad that people are still judging others by their appearance or beliefs. Why can't we have our own opinions? Why do people try so hard to be popular? People should have more self-confidence. I think it is sad and cruel to force opinions to stay inside just because they may be different.

Out Of Space

I want to respond to the "Why Not North Chicago" person. That person should get educated. The people in Libertyville are not upset the kids of North Chicago are coming here, but rather that there is just not enough space for all of the students.

Unhappy Birthday

It was my birthday, and I wanted pizza. We ordered two pizzas from a place in Antioch. When we got home with them we discovered that they were burned and we had to throw them away. We went back to complain and we were assured a refund. When we returned four days later, they revoked their offer and would give us a giro instead. I'm sorry, that is just not good enough. The value of a giro is not the same as two pizzas! We will never use this place again and our friends will back us up!

My Dog Thanks You

This is just a thanks to the person who on April 3 hit my yellow Labrador dog and left him there to suffer. Although he was suffering terribly, he was still alive but you left him there! I hope you slept well that night.

We Already Pay

I have noticed that the lipservice people have been wondering why students like myself can't pay for sports. If people were more informed they would know that students at ACHS already are required to pay for sports. This year we were charged a $40.00 fee. Next year we may have to pay $100.

Forget The Lottery

This is to all of you that really think the money from the lottery goes to education. Well, you are right, but for every dollar put into education from the lottery, a dollar is removed from the state budget. The net result is zero. Also, all of you people who can't understand why the school needs more money despite the increases in housing - learn the facts. If each household pays $5,000 in taxes, this would pay for one child to attend the high school. If each family has two children, then the school is operating at a loss.

Go Rebels

Congratulations to the St. Gilberts girls basketball team. Good luck in high school. Go Rebels.

Worse Than Animals

The smokers in Antioch are the worst litterbugs in the world. You throw your cigarette butts everywhere. Worse, the filters do not disintegrate and so they pile up. Many of you throw your butts in front of public buildings and someone else has to pick them up. Animals know better than that!

Where Is It Going To Go

I want to know what the Riverboat people are going to do with the human waste coming off those boats. I don't even want to think about it. Not to mention the trash, pop cans, and liquor bottles. Why isn't anyone concerned about the environmental impact? I worked on a cruise ship a long time ago, but I know that they just dump that stuff into the water!

We Want Your Blood

Hey, there is a serious blood shortage. We need you, May 1, at Calvary Temple Christian Center on Monaville Road in Lake Villa. You must be 17 years or older and weigh more than 110 pounds. Please donate a pint!

Needs Park Ranger

I am complaining about the teenagers in Centennial Park. They are going to the bathroom in surrounding yards, disturbing the peace, and destroying property. Get serious, Hoyt. There is NO official or even non-official park ranger.

Children Are Blameless

I would like someone to tell me if they can name an all black school in Lake County that embraces the Black Separatist Movement? How about any white schools embracing the White Supremacy Movement? That's right, there is no such black school like that! However, there are a few all white schools you may be able to recognize. I am angry at you near-sighted parents. The children are not to blame.

On Target

I am a mother of three living in Gurnee. I wish that Dr. Conti would poll the parents first before accusing Meg Scalla of offending people. I know I am not alone in my displeasure of the campus concept. On this issue, Meg Scalla is on target.

A Closer Look

I think that everyone needs to stop blaming the kids for all the school budget problems. No kids are born hoodlums. The parents should be looked at more closely.

Good Cooking

A round of applause for the Fox Lake Fire Department! I feel that they have done an outstanding job in putting on the fire department breakfast on Sunday, April 8th.

Make a Bet?

Three cheers for the Riley's in Wauconda regarding smokers rights. I have a wager for nonsmokers who complain about second hand smoke. Do you own a car? You sit in your garage with the engine running for half an hour while I sit in mine smoking my cigarettes. Then decide, who is killing who!

Need More Police

It is 11:08 PM. Where are the police? They only have two police cars on duty all night. They won't tell me why. I am sure it is not their fault. Maybe someone is on the take politically, but not in the police department. We cannot get them to come out here in a hurry but Forest Ave. is a drag strip. No one can get any sleep. Where are our tax dollars going? Maybe a news investigation is due in Fox Lake.

Near Miss

When is Round Lake Beach going to change that stop sign on the corner of Clariden and North Channel? You can't even see it when you get up to it and I almost had an accident there. Please, please change it.

Who is Listening?

I find it incredible that Tom Wall of the Vernon Hills Park District wants a referendum on the golf course issue. He and his board ignored the other referendums concerning the culture center and the pool. He didn't listen before, what makes us think he will listen now.

Whats Up?

Hey, what's up Antioch educators? Look how Morton East and West students conduct themselves and know what is going on in their schools.

Read the Manual

I have heard a rumor that they are going to repair Route 173. It sure would be nice if they could put stoplights and right turn lanes at Hunt Club road and Route 45. I have seen too many people drive onto the shoulder where they pass over the white line to make their own right turn lane. Maybe some people should review their driver's instruction booklet. This is both dangerous and illegal. I'm from Antioch. Please everyone, drive safely.

Citizenship Upgrade

If you smoke and do not want to be considered a second class citizen, you can become a first class citizen by quitting smoking. You will save money and it is better for your health. Smoking stinks! If people were smart they would never take the first smoke. I got smart and quit. You can too!

A Few Bad Apples

I am a parent in the Grass Lakes School District of Antioch. I would like to rebut some of the negative comments printed in lipservice regarding the school. I want everyone to know that while Grass Lake School has had some problems, there are still a lot of good things happening at the school. Most teachers and staff members are conscientious, caring, and hardworking people. It is a shame that it is always a few bad apples that ruin it for everyone. My hat goes off to the teachers who remember why they became teachers in the first place which is to educate the children in a kind and caring manner. To those teachers who see dollars signs instead of little people sitting at desks in the classroom, I wish you did a job in a more affluent district to make you happy. Then at least you could pretend to like what you are doing.

Off Target

Hasn't Antioch been ruined enough by Burger King, Taco Bell, Walgreens, Kentucky Fried Chicken, Hardy's, not to mention the stupid housing developments? Now, some people are talking about putting in a Target Store to make it worse. I liked it better fifteen years ago.

No Shame In Fox Lake

I would like to leave a message to the grandmother who shamed Fox Lake. Why would anyone in their right mind want to have a huge park district program like Round Lake? One, we can all use the facilities there for one or two dollars more per class. Two, we do not have to pay their exorbitant taxes that helps fund their programs. Think about it! We are much better off without a park district in Fox Lake. We don't need those high taxes.

Closing in on the generation gap

In this age of the over-stressed "sandwich generation," parents are caught in the bind of not only caring for their children, but also their own aging parents.

The Condell Day Center for Intergenerational Care offers a comforting solution. At a reasonable cost, the center, which is adjacent to Condell Medical Hospital, provided complete care for both the elderly and preschoolers.

style, realizes and fosters the precarious bond between seniors and very young.

Activities take place together, which helps the elders see again "through the eyes of a child" while their young counterparts are learning the long forgotten rule of respecting one's elders.

The Condell Day Center for Intergenerational Care is the only one of its kind in Illinois, according to Ina Albert, public relations for the Medical Center.

Albert said the elders benefit both psychologically and physically through participating in a variety of activities and classes such as exercise, music, crafts and games.

"The activities bring hope and a feeling of usefulness to the participants in that they remain active," Albert said.

'Bilingual' one way to solve family conflicts: O'Connor

The next time you find yourself in a conflict with a family member and the matter is not worth going into a fight, one should consider the type of person one is in conflict with.

"We relate in a different way when we are under pressure," Kevin O'Connor, marriage and family counselor, said.

"If these people look like they are resisting your efforts, they are not. What they are doing is pursuing a different goal than you are. The goal is to align goals. Frequently, we are going this way and they are going that way," O'Connor said.

Kevin O'Connor explains differences between personality types.

O'Connor concluded the series of lectures sponsored by the David Adler Cultural Center and Warren Twp. Family Services at Warren Twp. Center. The series begins again in October.

He divided personalities into four

by STEVE PETERSON

categories: relators who like no conflict, socializers, thinkers and directors.

Characteristics of relators are: friendly, helpful, warm and supportive. Socializers are fun, fast, flexible, quick, spontaneous and gregarious. Thinkers are usually orderly and perfectionist. Directors, like things fast, direct, in control and are dominant.

"What would happen if I looked at life from their point of view first and I treated them with the same respect that I would treat my neighbors that I liked. If you want to resolve conflict in your family, think in terms of cooperation. Think in terms of point of view and think in terms of respect. Translate all of that into your action, not what others might do.

"We all know what other people in a conflict should do. That is the most useless point of information," O'Connor said.

O'Connor mentioned a theory of conflict told by Tony Alessaudia, a former San Diego, Calif. teacher. "English isn't always English. If we conflict with someone, do not continue to speak our language, but begin to speak theirs," he said.

Resolving conflict has gone beyond the old "respect others". Now, there are different ways to teach conflict resolution. O'Connor, an author, gives about 100 lectures a year.

"What are the first things that happen for 'relators' when they are in a conflict? Their feelings get hurt, they back off, internalize.

"The thinkers take conflict as a personal insult, while the directors have anxiety, stress, magnify," O'Connor said.

"When the pressure gets on and there is conflict, relators sweat, then come up with their contribution to the meeting. They say, 'we're all in this together'. Let's work as a team. Everybody else looks at each other and say, 'who hired him, anyway,' O'Connor said. "When conflict hits, they back off."

HIV Coalition seeks members

Until a few months ago, there has not been much of a coordinated effort in Lake County in dealing with HIV problems, according to Kathy McGowan, regional manager of Lake County Catholic Charities.

Two months ago the Lake County HIV Coalition came into existence, with

by CONNIE KINDSVATER

Lakeland Newspapers

the primary purpose of networking and coordinating the available HIV services and supports in the county.

"We are really interested in people's input and their concerns," McGowan said. "Plus, we want to spread the word about the services the county offers for HIV-infected persons."

Interested persons, professionals, HIV-infected individuals and family members are encouraged to attend an open meeting of the newly formed Lake County HIV Coalition. The meeting will be held on Monday, April 26, at 10 a.m. at the First Congregational Church in Waukegan at Grand Avenue and Utica.

Previously, according to McGowan, different organizations such as Catholic Charities, the Lake County Health Department, hospitals, and community groups independently offered HIV services. But, McGowan explained, the county lacked a coordinated approach—resulting in social services agencies and volunteers not knowing what was going on throughout the county.

The HIV Coalition is concentrating its efforts in five areas: medical care, volunteerism task force, spiritual care for people with AIDS, case management and education. Interested persons who join the coalition are invited to choose one of these five areas and attend the sub-committee meetings.

"Since the Coalition started, we're beginning to talk with one another about HIV in Lake County," said McGowan. "Two of our main concerns are advocacy for HIV-infected persons and education for the community about HIV and AIDS."

McGowan feels that there is still a stigma in the county about HIV and AIDS. One of the HIV-infected persons that Catholic Charities uses as a speaker, who resides in Lake County, is willing to give a talk in Chicago, but not in Lake County—because she fears the stigma.

Red Cross gives call for war benefits

The American Red Cross urges National Guard Reserve veterans of the Persian Gulf War to apply now for financial benefits available through the Persian Gulf Family Support Project.

Though hostilities in the gulf ended Feb. 27, 1991, many National Guard and Reserve veterans returned home to unique problems resulting from Operation Desert Shield/Storm.

To provide assistance to these veterans, the Department of Defense approved a $13.5 million grant administered by the Red Cross. To date, only $1.2 million of the grant has been provided to the eligible veterans. The grant expires in a few weeks and will not be extended or renewed.

The grant offers funding in several categories:

- Family / Individual, marital, budget and or crisis counseling— The Red Cross will help the families identify needs and provide them a referral list of the approved counselors for all services:

- Child and elder care— Partial reimbursement for child or elder care for eligible National Guard and Reserve families with dependent minor children who incurred expenses during Operation Desert Shield / Storm;

- Employment assistance— Assistance for qualified families who are seeking employment or need employment skills.

Applications must be received by July 1, 1993 for awards to be granted. For more information call the Red Cross at (312) 440-2102 and ask for the Persian Gulf Family Support Representative.

I'm an alcoholic, but I don't drink.

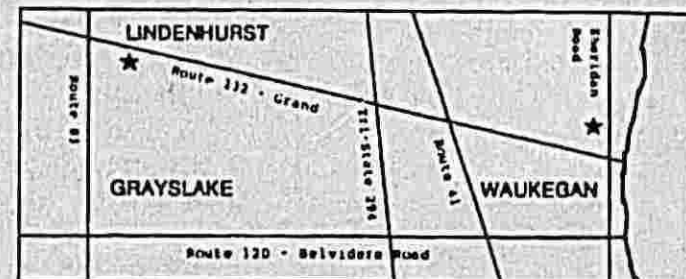

I always thought I was a "social drinker"—a few beers, a couple of drinks, maybe a nightcap or two. I thought I could handle it.

But, when my family confronted me, I finally called to inquire about the Chemical Dependency Programs at Victory Memorial Hospital. That was the beginning of a new life for me.

After an initial assessment to determine the extent of my disease, the counselor recommended an outpatient treatment program. Victory's new outpatient services in Lindenhurst worked best for me. It made it even easier for me to continue to go to work and live at home while I was being treated.

Through individual and group therapy, conducted by certified addiction counselors, my family and I developed an awareness of my problem and learned what we all need to do to recover.

Victory has a lot of excellent programs. Now that I'm recovering, I want to help others with similar problems. If anyone lives in the Lake County area and wants the best care, I would always tell them to choose Victory.

old. It provides a school-like setting with eight classrooms, one for each stage of their lives and structured according to their individual learning capacity.

There also is an accredited kindergarten which sends graduates off to first grade, according to Albert.

Occasionally, it is rare that seniors in nursing and day care homes experience the joy and stimulating contact that comes from being and doing projects with youngsters. At the center, they are exposed to that encounter.

"Some of the children are so excited, they introduce their senior friends to other children, or to their parents when they come to pick them up," said Albert.

The seniors also have the treat of a complete beautician's room, where they are primped and doted upon, raising their self esteem with other residents.

Trained staff has been praised by the families of the residents because they witness a change in the children's new caring attitude and seniors' new zest for life, Albert said.

Anyone interested in registering adults or children in the day care program should call Condell Day Center at 362-2900, Ext. 5800.

The United States Army increased the maximum Army College Fund (ACF) enlistment incentive to $30,000 starting April 1.

The boost from the previous top amount of $25,200 to the new $30,000 figure was approved by Congress to restore the Army College Fund's buying power from its original 1985 level.

"The Army, if effect, is now making $30,000 college scholarship available to qualified applicants," said Lieutenant Colonel Robert M. Riley, commander of the United States Army Recruiting Battalion, Chicago.

Riley explained that the $30,000 amount is a special incentive to attract high-quality recruits. It combines the Montgomery GI Bill ($13,200) with a $1,200 from the soldier added to $15,600 provided by the new ACF amount. The two and three year options have similarly increased to $20,000 and $25,000, respectively, from $17,000 and $22,800.

For further details concerning the Army's new $30,000 college scholarship, those interested should contact their nearest Army recruiter or call 926-2640.

Student of the Month

Kristin Pierson has been selected "Student of the Month" at Antioch Community High School. This program is sponsored by the Bank of Waukegan in Antioch. A contribution is made each month to the Parent/Teacher Scholarship Fund of Antioch Community High School in the name of the student. Presenting a check to Ms. Pierson on behalf of the bank is Mr. Bob Haggarty along with Mr. Joe Fielding.

Area student advances in Presidential scholarship hunt

John Harting, son of Raymond and Janet Harting, and a graduating senior Antioch Community High School was named one of 2,500 semifinalist in the 1993 Presidential Scholars Program. The semifinalist were selected from more than 2.5 million students expected to graduate from U.S. high schools in 1993.

From these semifinalists, 141 will be selected as the 1993 Presidential Scholars. The White House will announce their selection in early May.

Now in its 29th year, the scholarship program is the highest federal honor bestowed upon graduating high school seniors. Scholars are selected on the basis of superior academic achievements, leadership qualities, strong character, and involvement in community and school activities.

Finalists will be invited to Washington D.C. for several days in mid-June to receive the Presidential Scholar medallion at a recognition ceremony and to participate in activities with their elected representatives, educators, and others in public life.

Fireworks raffle to defray July 4 celebration begins

With Antioch's July 4th celebration rapidly approaching, "The Rockets Red Glare" raffle sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce will give one lucky winner $5,000 and help defray the cost of the weekend celebration.

The raffle tickets cost $5 and only 2,000 will be sold. Tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce, 1st National Bank of Antioch, 1st Chicago Bank of Antioch and various other locations throughout the village. The remaining $5,000 collected from the sale of the raffle tickets will go directly pay part of the costs of the celebration.

According to July 4 Committee Chairman Claude LeMere, the celebration will begin on July 3 at 9:30 a.m. with pre-parade entertainment on Main Street, followed by the parade at 10 a.m. Immediately after the parade, a fun fair for kids of all ages is planned at Williams Park. There will be games, sack races, three legged races, pony rides, petting zoo, clowns, and refreshments.

The celebration will continue on July 4 at Williams Park when the village will host its second annual sports tournament. Tournaments for baseball, basketball, volleyball, and horseshoes will be conducted. A dunk tank, fishing casting contest, bell ring, apple pie baking contest, a tug-o-war between the Antioch Lions Club and Antioch Rescue Squad, Fire Department water fights, bingo, entertainment by the Lakes Area Community Band, Grease Band, and P.M. & L. performances will keep everyone entertained.

The weekend will conclude with another of Antioch's world-famous fireworks displays. Delicious food and refreshments will be provided by the Antioch Lions Club.

"The weekend's celebration has the single purpose to enhance patriotism and celebrate our nation's birthday with the upmost of respect and dignity while we aid in the preservation of Antioch as a friendly, family oriented rural American community rich in tradition," said LeMere.

VFW Poppy Days set for July 2 and 3

Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton declared July 2 and 3 Veterans of Foreign Wars "Poppy Days" in Antioch. The resolution, passed by the Village Board calls for village residents to wear the poppy as a reminder of those who gave their lives in defense of their country. Antioch VFW members will be passing out the Poppy flowers, for a small donation, during those two days.

Rotary Club offers college scholarships to ACHS grads

The Antioch Rotary Club is continuing to give college scholarships to ACHS graduating seniors who intend to enroll in school this fall.

To qualify for the numerous scholarships awarded by the Rotary Club, students must either be seeking an associates degree in a two-year program, seeking a four-year degree from a university or four-year college, but plan to first enroll in a community college, or are seeking a bachelors' degree from a four-year college or university.

"Although the number and amount of the scholarships vary annually," said Ted Axton, chairman of the scholarship committee. "For the 1992 school year, we awarded 12 scholarships totaling $10,050."

Axton said the criteria for determining scholarship recipients is based on financial need of the applicant, academic achievement, and extra curricular activities.

Applicants need to fill out the ACHS Standard Local Scholarship Application, along with a short form addendum, and return it to the ACHS College Career Center. Copies of the Rotary Scholarship applicants will be submitted to the Rotary Scholarship Committee after the ACHS Guidance Office assigns a number to each student's application, so that the decision can be made without knowing the student's names.

Scholarship finalists, according to Axton, will probably be interviewed at ACHS during the school day.

Scholarship recipients will be invited and expected to attend a Rotary Club luncheon in the Spring of 1993, and to schedule follow-up visits to the Club meeting when they return to the area.

Further questions about the scholarship, according to Axton, can be answered by contacting the ACHS Guidance Office.

SHARE/food stretches area grocery budgets

Making those food dollars stretch is always a challenge. But the SHARE/Food program sponsored locally by the Antioch Exchange Club can help food dollars go a long way.

SHARE/Food members pay $15 per month and two hours of volunteer time. In exchange they get a well-balanced package of food worth more than $35. The package typically contains several types of meat, various vegetables, fruits, plus staples such as pasta, rice and cereals. The food is high-quality and brand name and the package also contains a newsletter with recipes and meal plans.

SHARE/Food is not a government subsidized program and anyone, regardless of economic status, can join. Members pay their $15 and commit to two hours a month of volunteer service. The volunteer hours can be spent helping package and distribute the Share/Food packages.

To sign up for this program, bring their money to one of the following locations by 1 p.m. May 8: State Bank of Antioch, First National Bank of Antioch, Lake Villa Township Office, and the State Bank of Antioch Lindenhurst Facility.

Pick up will be on May 22 at the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

Blaze rips through house

by ALEC JUNG
Lakeland Newspapers

A fire Tuesday destroyed part of a home rented by Douglas Cole in Lindenhurst at 37435 Verona.

The fire apparently started when Cole's son David, 11, was cooking an apple over an open flame. The apple was partially on fire when he dropped it on his rug, which then ignited his bedroom and part of the garage.

"He (David) was cooking apples over an open flame, Lake Villa Fire Chief Frank Slazes said. "Apparently a piece of the apple was on fire and when he dropped it on the floor the carpet spread on fire.

He then went to get some drainage pans of water out of the cabinet, then apparently the flames spread through the carpet and the walls," Slazes said.

"We arrived at the scene when the fire was going about five minutes, the flames were coming out of the windows and part of the garage. It took us about 15-20 minutes to contain the fire.

The fire damage is in the back where the kid's bedroom was, the fire spread up into the attic. Structural members would need to be replaced. There is a lot of paneling, if there had been some drywall it would have slowed the fire down," Slazes said.

Cole lived in the house with his daughter Megan, 13 and David. At the moment they are homeless. The fire department is attempting to find temporary housing for the Cole's through the Red Cross.

Slazes roughly estimates the damages at $30,000.

CLC celebrates National Community College Month

The College of Lake County will join Illinois community, technical and junior colleges in observing Community College Month in April. The Illinois celebration is part of a national observance recognizing the contributions of the more than 1,200 two-year colleges across the United States. More than 470,000 degrees are awarded by community colleges each year.

"More Americans are choosing community colleges for their educational needs," said CLC President Daniel J. LaVista.

LaVista said the role of community colleges has expanded in the past 50 years to keep up with the nation's changing needs. Community college enrollment has grown from 295,000 in 1945 to 6.2 million in 1991. The number of full-time students increased 8.9 percent in 1991, while the number of part-time students increased 5.6 percent.

In Illinois, enrollment at community colleges now accounts for almost 65 percent of the students at the state's public colleges and universities. Locally, more than one in five recent high school graduates enrolls at CLC.

"Research shows that our students who transfer to four-year institutions do as well or better than students who start at larger institutions," LaVista said.

CLC offers associate in arts and science degrees, certificates of completion, transfer and career education courses and adult and continuing education courses.

The college is also involved in a variety of educational partnerships with area schools, among them Project Succeed (North Chicago), Getting It Together (Waukegan) and Talent Search (North Chicago, Round Lake, Waukegan and Zion-Benton). These programs provide disadvantaged students in elementary, junior and senior high schools with tutoring, mentorship and other services to motivate them to stay in school and prepare them for college and success in the work world.

"Through these programs and others, we're able to provide broad-based educational services to the community," LaVista said.

Quick pick nets couple 17 million in Ill lottery

by Alec Junge
 Lakeland Newspapers

A Lake Villa couple hit the jackpot, recently winning $17 million in the Illinois lottery.

The Don and Lisette Norwick will receive $850,000 annually for the next 20 years. The winning ticket was purchased at the Mr. T's Liquor's in Round Lake Heights.

"I bought the ticket to humor him," Lisette said. They buy $10 of lottery tickets every week, $5 his numbers and $5 quick pick.

"When I got home I looked at the tickets and thought we had matched four numbers again. Then, I realized we had five, then all six numbers. Of course my wife reminded me I'm famous for looking at tickets from previous drawings and suggested that I better make sure I had the right ticket.

"We plan to send the kids to college, and go on vacation. We are meeting with lawyers and financial consultants.

"I always wanted to make sure we had enough money. Now we do. We'll be able to build a new house, buy a new car and do some traveling.

"We had to get an answering machine. The phone has been ringing 24 hours a day. Friends and relatives we haven't heard from in many years, they're all calling," Don said.

"We want to go to Yellowstone first. We want a boat," Lisette said.

The Norwick's have been playing the lottery since it began. "I won four numbers a couple of times. I had just won four numbers two weeks before, so I feel lucky," Don said.

"Right now we plan to stay where we are. We would like to build but we don't know where yet," he added.

Presently she doesn't work and he will probably quit his job as a foreman at Abbott Contractors in Northbrook after a job he is working on is finished, Don said.

Parting shot

Libertyville's Dustin Dobrin has played in his farewell home tennis match at Northern Illinois. "Dustin's earned the nickname 'milkman' because he always delivers," Huskie coach Tim Madden said of his senior captain. "He never says never. He's the type of guy no one wants to go up against because he'll just keep returning shot after shot. Everyone looks up to him and he's certainly been an ideal captain in terms of providing leadership on and off the court."

Dashing

Eastern Illinois senior Donna Levy of North Chicago took second in the 100-meter dash (:13.15) during the EIU Invitational.

Hammerin' Heskett

Northeast Missouri State junior Geoff Heskett, a Gurnee product, finished third in the hammer throw (170-2) in a meet against Eastern Illinois.

Stephanie Woosley, a sophomore guard on the Lake Zurich varsity, won the free-throw shooting competition for high school girls at the College of Lake County April 9. Woosley drew a first-round bye by canning 22 of 25 in the preliminaries. She then beat defending champ Tina Stops of Stevenson with another 22 of 25 and connected on 20 of 25 in the championship to beat Round Lake's Joy King.

Oakwood tourneys

The Oakwood Racquet & Health Club in Waukegan is sponsoring a doubles tennis tourney Saturday and Sunday, May 1-2. Cash prizes will be awarded. Running in a pinch boosts Pats

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Starting the North Suburban Conference baseball season with two losses would be something untraditional and downright scary for the Patriots baseball squad.

Never fear, Stevenson faithful. The Pats used a combination of plusses to come through with a 3-2 win over Warren.

The game boiled down to the execution of both teams' pinch runners. Stevenson had the better of this game as John Wascow went from first to third on a grounder which set up the game-winning RBI single by Nate Allen.

"He did a good job. We have not used pinch runners too much this year. We usually use the non-conference games to see who is apt at pinch running and pinch hitting," Stevenson Coach Bob Mackey said.

"I kind of had good speed and we have a good coaching staff at Stevenson," Wascow, a Hawthorn Woods resident said.

Jeff Turnbull

Wascow, a junior, sometimes spends his time on the junior varsity level. He plays behind Mike Mackie at second base.

Warren was fighting for a game tying run in the seventh inning. Adam McMahon was hit by a pitch and Chris Knapp was sent in as a pinch runner. He reached second base on a sacrifice, but was the third out when he strayed too far off base after a sacrifice.

"We like to run the bases aggressively. You live by the sword, or you die by the sword," Warren Coach Dar Townsend said.

Stevenson battled North Chicago this week in the NSC before hosting Deerfield April 24. Warren is at Zion-Benton April 24 for a 10:30 a.m. doubleheader.

Stevenson (10-3) had the pitching of Jeff Turnbull and the long ball of Kevin Fredrick going for it in this crucial mid-season game. The win came three days after a tough loss to Warren.

"It does not get any bigger than this. If we had gone down two games in the conference, it would have been devastating," Mackey said.

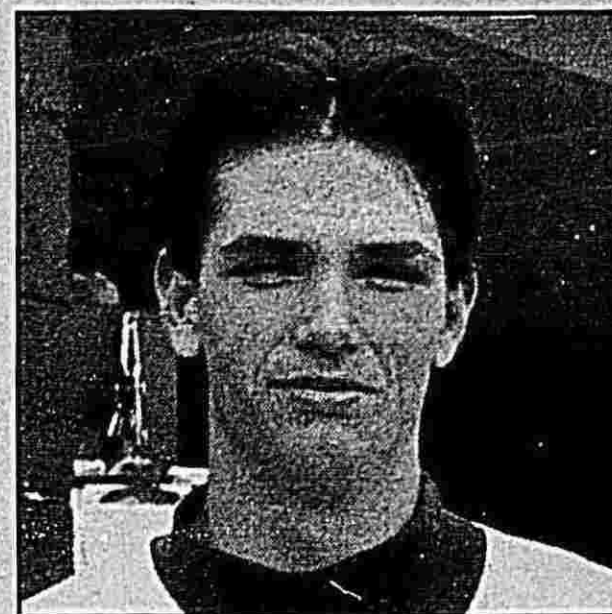

"It was a real big win, especially after some of their comments after the last game," Fredrick said.

Fredrick provided the Pats with their first two runs, a homer in the fourth inning off Joe Hird. He also beat out an infield hit in the fourth and came in and registered a save.

"I swing up and in to the middle," the junior said.

Warren, 1-1 in the NSC, scored twice in the fourth, keyed by singles by Mark Leginski and Bob Olson. But the senior settled down, retiring nine in a row before a hits batsman ended his day in the seventh.

"I was mixing it up with a lot of high curves and that creates fly balls. I'm separating my hands quicker," Turnbull said.

Turnbull's two hit, two strikeout game impressed Townsend. "I thought Jeff Turnbull pitched a good game," he said.

Earlier wins over Palatine and Rolling Meadows may have seen a more effective Turnbull.

"Before each game, I picture myself out there," he said.

Mackey said he was pleased with the poise the starter showed in coming back from the two-run fourth.

Warren's Hird was making his debut as a starter. The Pats touched him for eight hits. He had pitched in relief in a 9-1 loss to Grant.

"He is to the point where he has to show more leadership. He is in the starting rotation now," Townsend said.

Superstitions pay off for Corsairs

For one generation, it goes back to the Black Cat in the 1969 Cubs-Mets games at Shea Stadium. For another, maybe a manager who refuses to step on the white lines when he is about to make a pitching change.

Yes, baseball is rich in superstitions. For future Carmel baseball games, fans should take note of a change which put assistant coach Greg Krebs at first and Steve Jarrell at third in the crucial seventh inning rally against St. Joseph. The quirk worked, as Carmel scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh for an 8-7 win. St. Joseph shutout Carmel 6-0.

"We like to give the kids a different look," Carmel Coach Chuck Gandolfi

Junior Dave Maloney picked up the East Suburban Conference win pitching one inning in relief. "He did a great job," Gandolfi said.

As for The Rally, the Carmel mentor had good feelings as the inning started. "I thought when we had the first two runners on base Curt Salata would have an extra-base hit. He pulled it right down the line for a double," Gandolfi said.

The Corsairs' task was not done yet. Thanks to some wildness from the Charger relief corps, junior Mike Rapplean had a chance to be the hero. He did just that, with a single on a two-strike pitch to right-field. "He is a good contact hitter," Gandolfi said.

Eric Jenssens, a junior, also had a double in the eighth hit attack. Carmel had to overcome multiple errors.

Carmel is led by the pitching of senior Brian Buckingham, who was 4-0 after a win over Waukegan as the Corsairs have won seven of 10. Salata, a senior, leads Carmel's offense.

"The strength has been our pitching, the competitiveness of our kids and the coaching staff. We have played some pretty good teams and could be 8-2 or 9-1," Gandolfi said.

Carmel, weather permitting of course, hosts Joliet Catholic in an ESCC twin-bill April 24.

Pats' spikers bounce back

Stevenson High School's volleyball team bounced back from a two-game loss to Hersey and outlasted Fenton in North Suburban Conference play Tuesday.

Stevenson clashes with Libertyville at LHS at 5 p.m. April 23.

Kevin Keller led the way for the Pats against the Bison in the 15-5, 16-14 win. Keller had nine-for-nine serving and 16-18 with seven kills.

Stevenson improved to 10-5 overall, 3-0 in the NSC

Mike Tong was 10-for-12 in serving, Josh Ornstein 12-for-13. Ornstein was 17-for-19 in hits with five kills and five-for-seven in digs.

In another league match, Stevenson beat back improving Mundelein 18-16, 16-14. Keller was 12-for-12 serving, Joe Virgillo was 21-for-27 hitting with five kills. Ornstein led the team in kills with eight.

Allen has complete day for CLC softball squad

College of Lake County's Sharon Allen had already enjoyed a complete day at the plate against Elgin.

She had four hits in five-at bats, two doubles and a triple and six RBIs. in a 16-8 CLC win.

But come the seventh inning, the Lancers were ahead 16-4 and there was still something for the Zion-Benton High grad to accomplish.

"I really wanted her to finish the game," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

Elgin scored four runs, but Allen accomplished the feat, and maybe gained enough confidence to become CLC's needed No. 2 pitcher behind Robin Hortin.

"Allen is very quick and throws the ball hard," Garcia said. She had nine strikeouts against the Spartans.

The Lancers had their hitting shoes on as they made the Skyway Conference sweep for a 7-9 record, 4-2 in league play. The Lancers pounded out 31 hits.

Kiki Johnson was three-for-three in the 14-4 first game win. Kelly Dameron was three-for-three as well and Jenny Hagen was two-for-two.

CLC hosts South Suburban April 25.

Pitching, hitting click for Panthers

Round Lake's pitching and hitting both clicked at the right time as the Panthers battled Grayslake in a Northwest Suburban Conference game.

Scott Muellemann recovered from early-game wildness to record the win in a 6-4 verdict. Round Lake registered its fourth straight win.

"He had control trouble in the first few innings but he finished real strong. He had five strikeouts in the last three innings," Round Lake Coach Jim Prorok said.

Muellemann gained his second win of the year on the strength of eight strikeouts and six walks in a four-hitter.

Grayslake's Scott Schupp suffered the loss.

Round Lake scored three runs in the fourth inning for a 5-4 lead, then added an insurance run in the sixth.

Mike Severson singled after an 0-2 count and one out later Scott Ellenwood walked. Clint Rodriguez doubled, Muellemann singled and Mike Niemczyk drove in two runs.

Round Lake had 10 hits.

"We have a lot of experienced players coming back with nine seniors providing leadership. We are hitting the ball well and that figured to be one of our strengths," Prorok said.

Justin Koski earned the win in a 4-3 triumph over Johnsburg. Ryan Bauer gained the save.

Wilmot opener pushed back

Inclement weather has pushed the season opener for races at Wilmot Speedway back to Saturday, May 1.

The speedway will hold a practice session, however, from 3 to 7 p.m. Saturday, April 24 — weather permitting.

Assist man

Rams look for confidence as league season heats up

Mundelein's softball team had done the deed to struggling opponents before.

"We were kind of shell-shocked from the Mundelein game," Grayslake Coach Pat Klinesmith said.

Mundelein ace Lindsay Prezell fired a one-hitter while the Mundelein bats kept hammering away at Grayslake pitching to the tune of a 21-0 win.

"After the Mundelein game, confidence needs to be built up. We are an inexperienced team, but we have a lot of heart," Klinesmith said.

big impact with the bat. Her bases-loaded double in the seventh inning provided the margin of victory against Marian.

"Once we get our pitching going, things will fall into place," Klinesmith said.

Klinesmith, a teacher at Grayslake Middle School, herself is a pitcher. She plays slow-pitch in the Waukegan Park Dist leagues, an avocation that has lasted a lifetime.

"I've played softball all my life. I attend clinics to learn about fast-pitch. If I died and could come back, I would want to come back as a fast-pitch pitcher," she said.

Aggressiveness paying off for Carmel softball squad

Whether it be a perfect day in May or a dreary afternoon in April, opponents of Carmel girls softball teams better be on their toes and remember well-diagrammed plays on defense.

For if foes don't, only a few well-placed hits will beat you. Warren found that out the hard way in a 10-2 loss to Carmel. The win was Carmel's first after two tough losses.

"That is something we practice on and we preach a lot. We like to make things happen. You have to take chances in this game," Carmel Coach Carlos Berroa said.

The Corsairs spotted the Blue Devils a 2-0 lead before responding. "I thought we came out a little flat. Maybe it was the weather. We talked about it after the third inning," Berroa said.

Carmel hosts IHM April 19 in a GCAC contest. Home games are played at Deerpath Park in Vernon Hills. Game time is 4:30 p.m.

The game marked the second time in a week Warren (1-2) had lost an early lead.

"I played a lot of girls who had not played much. Carmel had an excellent shortstop (Natalie Gambit) and Smith does a good job pitching. We need to hit the ball," Warren Coach Joyce Norton said.

Warren is scheduled to host Waukegan April 19 and area power Mundelein April 20 at 10:30 a.m. in Viking Park.

Warren used a little bit of its own aggressive softball in the third as Michelle Reeder, Erin Webster scored after singles.

Carmel's Smith, a senior, settled down considerably after that. "She seemed to have better command of the pitches and more velocity. She was on top of the hitters," Berroa said.

"My fastball is a lot faster this year," Smith, a senior, said.

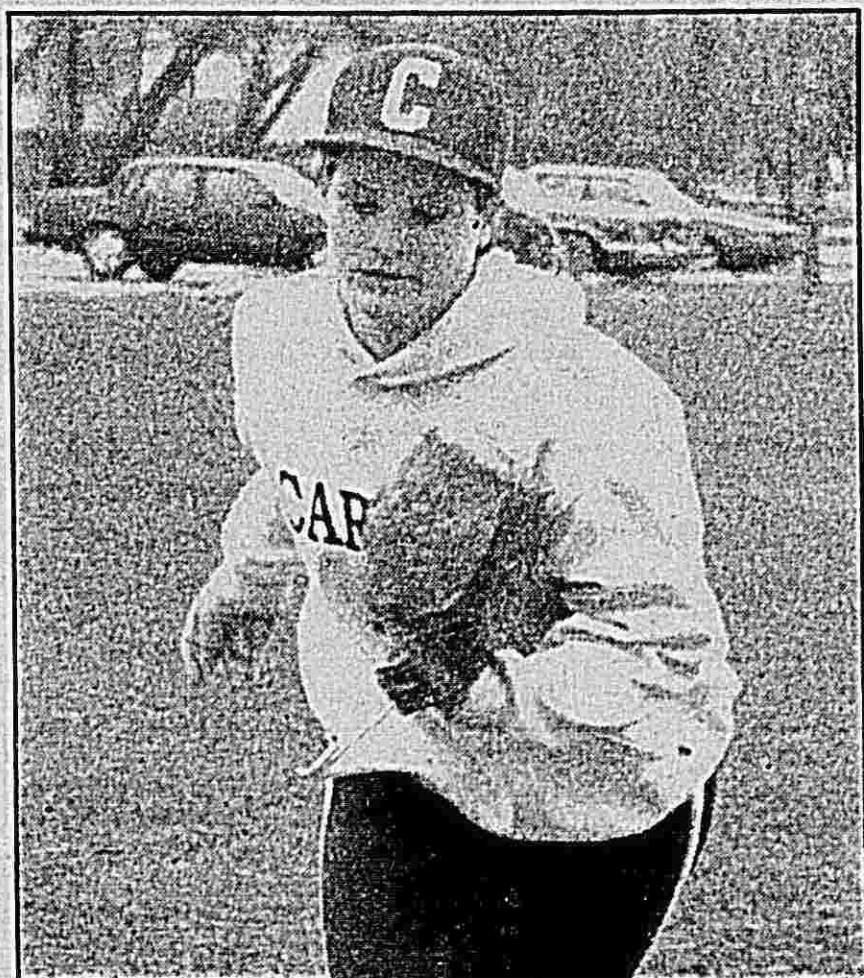

Carmel broke the game open with five runs on just two hits in the fourth.

Senior Danielle Eigner singled, Jenny Logue walked and both runners moved up as Logue went half-way between first and second base. Warren committed an error, allowing the extra base.

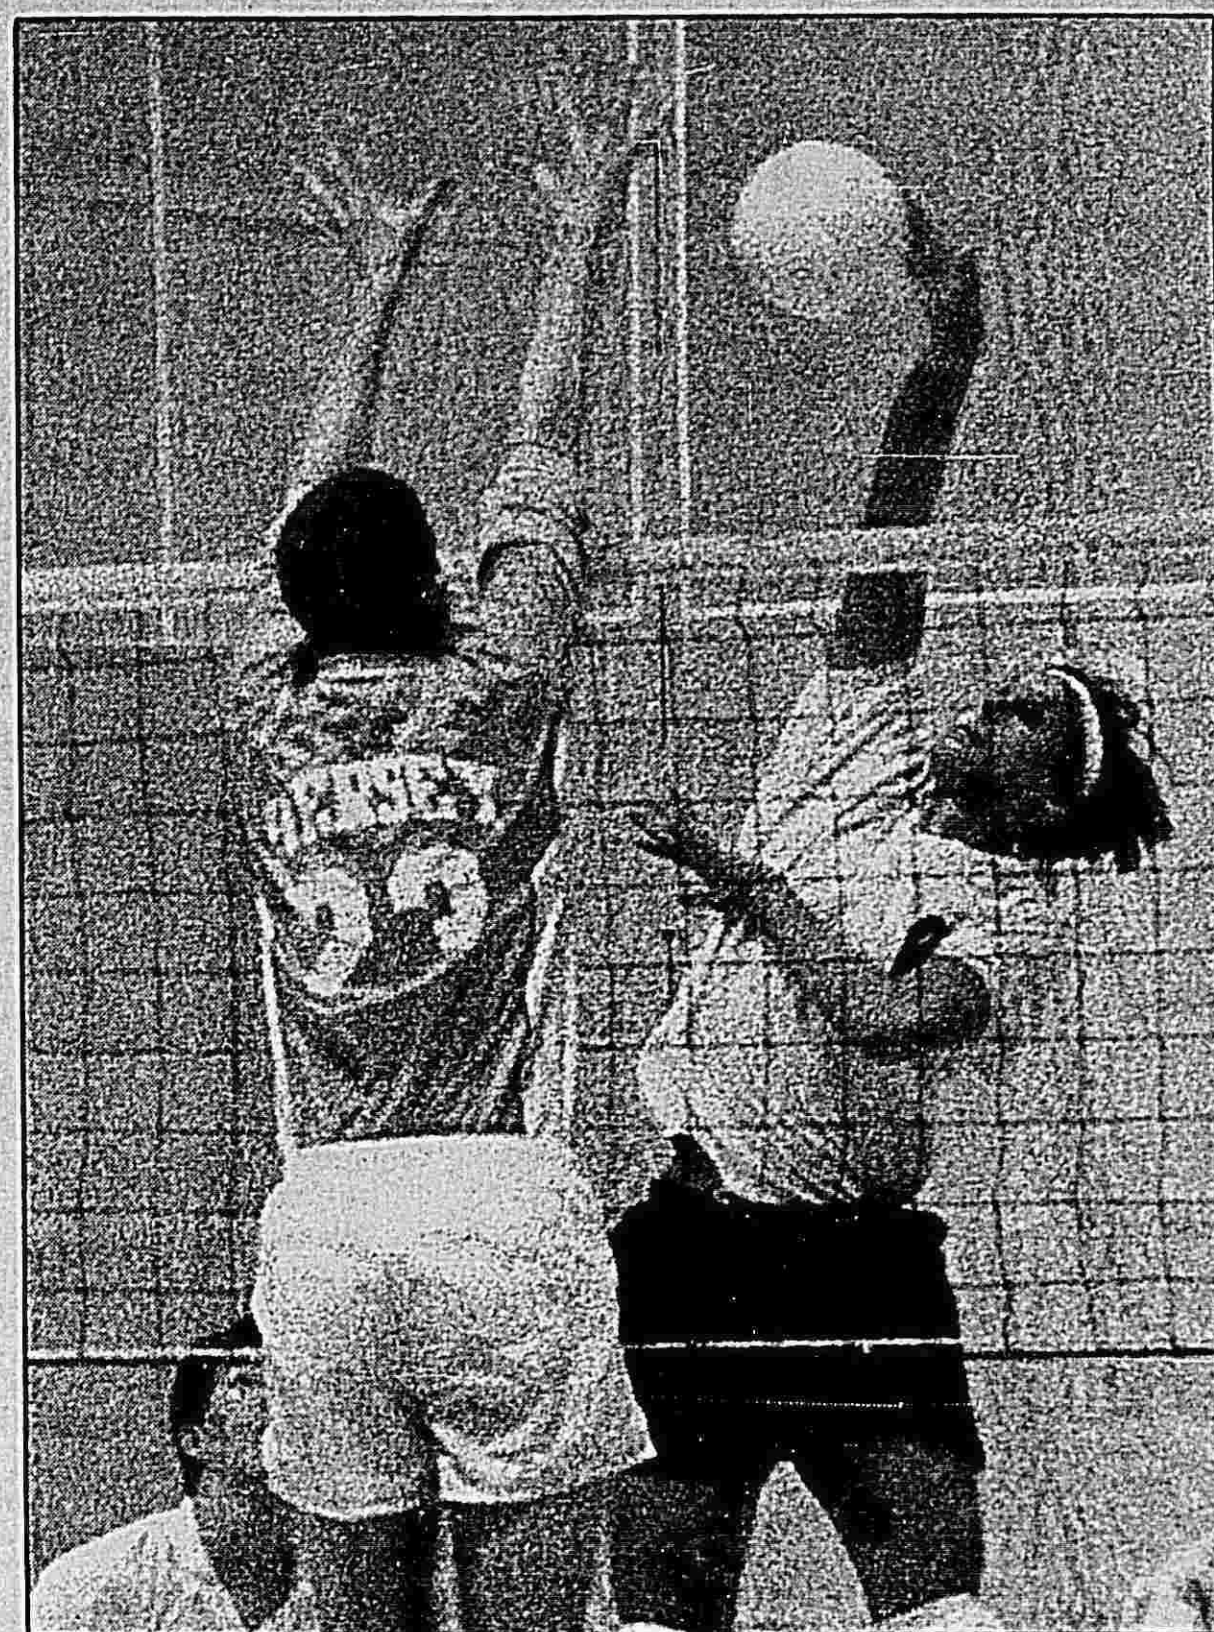

Karen Schwerman, a sophomore, and Smith singled. Dede Hertel and Amanda Harmon both had bases-loaded walks.

"I feel confident our key will be our defense. We also have some speed on the bench," the coach said.

Logue and Gambit are returning all-conference players.

Jeff Neal of Lake Villa finished eighth in the Missouri 250 leg of the AC-Delco Challenge Series.

Neal started in the No. 22 position of the American Speed Association stock car race at I-70 Speedway April 11.

Mike Eddy of Midland, Mich. won the race in 2:00.94 with an average speed of 61.694 mph.

Other area finishers were Dennis Lampman of Racine, Wis. in 16th and Tom Jones of Highland Park in 39th.

ries is slated for Friday and Saturday, April 24-25 at the Columbus (Ohio) Motor Speedway.

Pitcher getting to H(e)art of matter for Lancer hopes

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Pitching against batters in the Northwest Suburban Conference and succeeding is one thing Derek Hart accomplished last year.

The Round Lake graduate quickly found out that throwing the fastball by a Skyway Conference hitter is another story. Fortunately for the College of Lake County baseball fortunes, the Round Lake High stand-out is becoming a quick study.

"Derek pitched his best game of the year," Coach Gene Hanson said of a 9-5 win over Kankakee in the first of two sweep Sunday.

CLC, weather permitting, is scheduled to host Rock Valley at noon April 25.

The Lancers host Harper April 26 and Waubesa April 27.

Keith Slove, a Stevenson grad, was starting in the first game but roughed up for three runs. "It was the first time he had pitched since the spring trip. Hart came in and allowed just one more hit," Hanson said.

Hart finished with 10 strikeouts and two walks.

He was supported by 13 hits.

Rick Young and Dean Clark both had two hits and two RBIs.

Dan Strom continued to be the leading Lancers hitter. He had a grad slam as he upped his RBI total to 24 in 18 games. He has eight doubles, 11 stolen bases and a .440 batting average.

"He is our catalyst. As he goes, we go," Hanson said.

Strom's two-run homer sealed the win for CLC.

CLC took command early in the second game, with a six-run first inning.

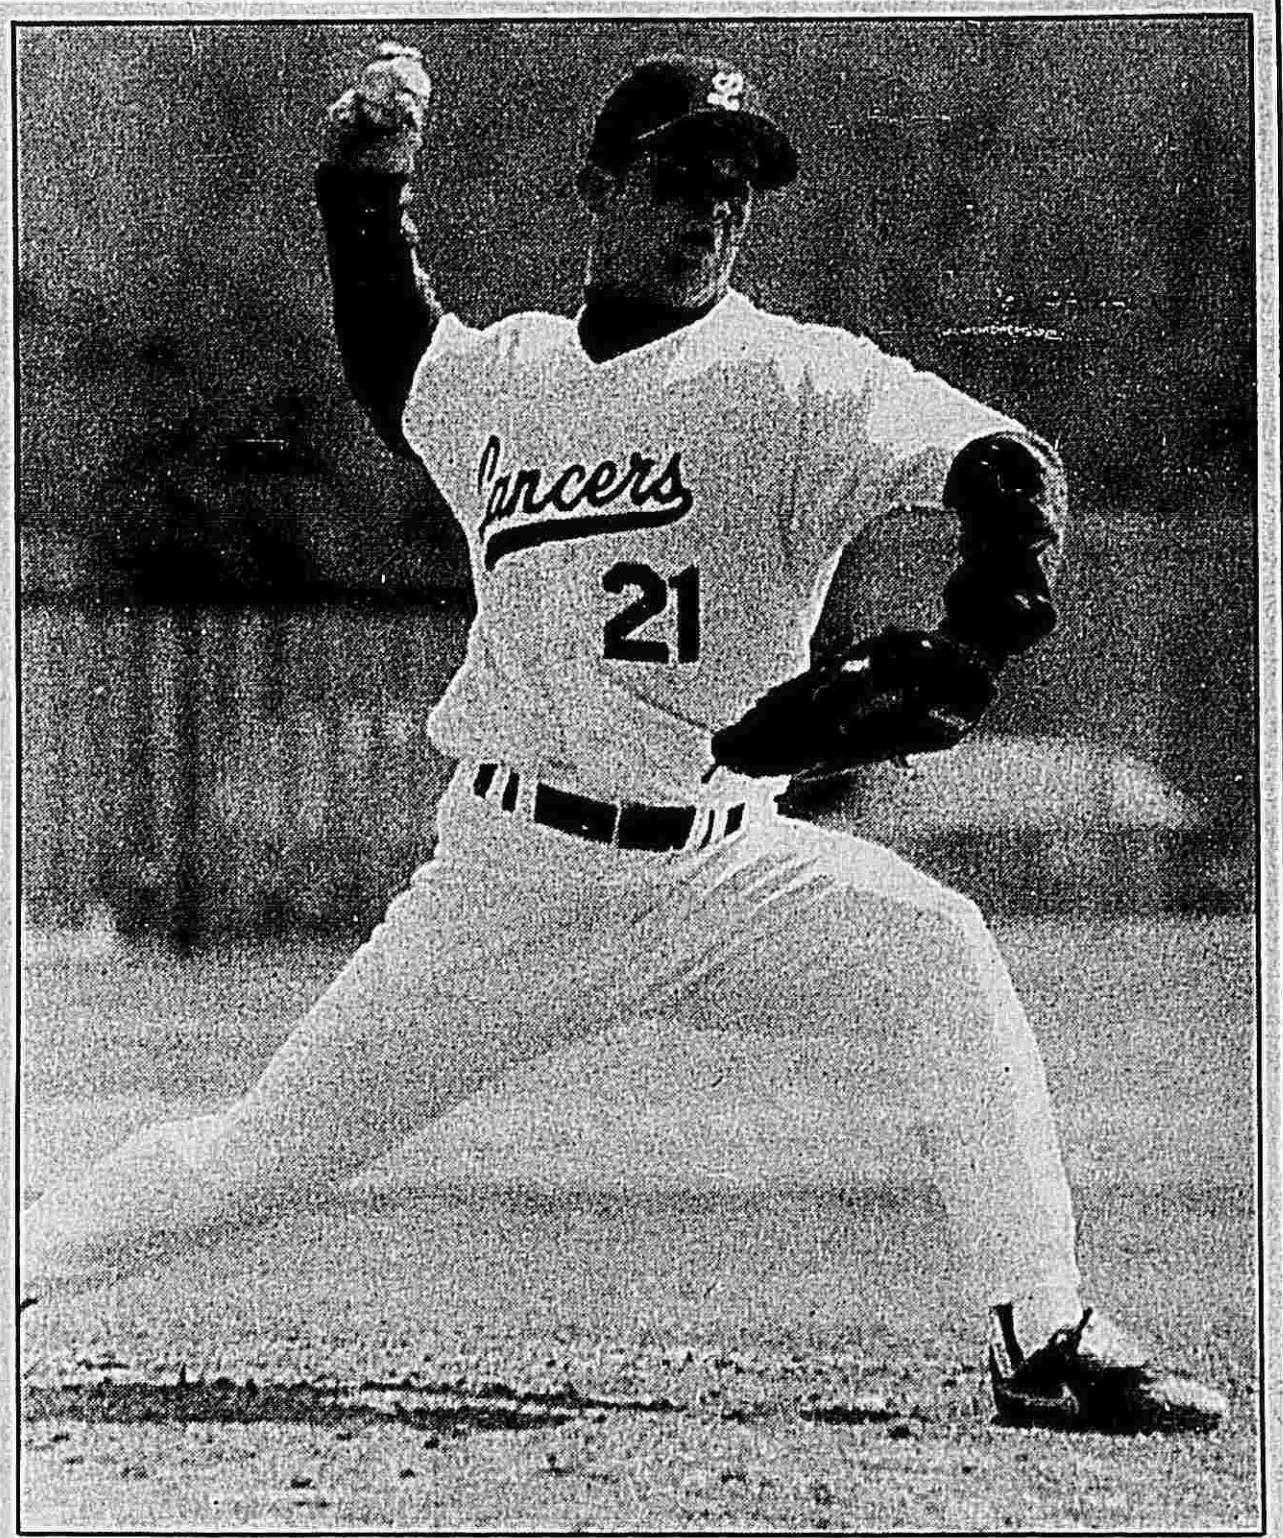

Strom's grand slam came in the fourth for a 13-1 CLC margin. Steve Karolewicz hit his first homer of the year and Mike Madel had three RBIs.

Dan Arderfuren, from Waukegan, earned his first win.

Pitching is a big reason for the CLC turnaround. The Lancers were 2-6-2 in Florida and are now 6-0 in conference.

"Pitchers are throwing strikes and that was something that was not being done in the spring trip. In 10 games in Florida, we walked 60 batters. We have more people hitting the ball," Hanson said.

Plaques in Hanson's CLC office tell of state finalist accomplishments. "We still have a long ways to go. We have a legitimate shot at the conference, and if we play really well, have a shot at getting to the championship game of the state finals," Hanson said.

'Pats pound Warhawks

Stevenson High School did not let the wet weather nor cold stop them from their 11th win in 14 games Tuesday.

The Pats downed North Chicago 18-2 in five innings as 12 runs in the first two innings did the trick.

Kevin Fredrick was the winning pitcher as he fanned six and allowed only two hits.

The Pats had consecutive doubles from Nate McCabe, Pete Turnbull and Ken Allen.

Stevenson, which hosts Deerfield April 24, is 2-1 in the NSC while the Warhawks lost their second league games.

Diamond teams find Mother Nature ruthless

Maybe it all began with the moving of the Wauconda-Mundelein game to Wauconda because of the soggy of the MHS diamond.

Not to criticize Mundelein, but maybe then we should have known the only winner this spring would be Noah.

While Friday and Saturday were dry and some baseball and softball games actually were played, the season has been an uphill struggle for area baseball teams.

Monday's games were awash as "ppd-postponed" once again replaced runs, hits and errors. It became just too much when I turned around and saw snow out of the window Tuesday morning.

"It is hard to motivate the kids to come inside. We try and do a few things in the batting cage like have a scoring system," Grayslake rookie Coach Troy Harper said.

Carmel made some refurbishing to the field, put in a new scoreboard. He said the games against St. Joseph, which the two teams split could have been played in Mundelein. "But we had that hard frost Friday night and now the field is muck," he said.

Gandolfi and other coaches use the same philosophy when it comes to Mother Nature. "Each kid has a rake," he said.

Politicians looking to find an argument against growth should look at the College of Lake County baseball field.

"All of our drainage pipes are full. There is no place for the water to go," CLC Coach Gene Hanson said.

Foul balls which used to hit trees in back of left-field side now hit driveways and that is part of the problem, according to the CLC mentor.

Petemoss grass was planted there and "bald" spots have developed.

A group of Round Lake parents and backers of Panther sports saved the school some $5,000 to $6,000 by working on baseball field improvements last year.

"The weather has been terrible," Coach Jim Prorok said.

Parents Larry Erickson, Phil Ellenwood, John Rodriguez and Glen Jewell, coach of the Legion team, pitched in on a sunny weekend.

"A number of people helped us and we are appreciative of their efforts. It was a pretty good school effort," Prorok said.

Even Stevenson and Libertyville, which usually play more games than any other area schools, have had games canceled by Mother Nature.

Lake County Races offers cash for record breakers

Runners in the 13th annual Lake County Races will be running for cash for the first time in the history of the county's longest running event.

The Races is offering a $1,000 cash bonus for anyone who sets a new course record for the marathon, half-marathon and 10K event. Current records are:

for the marathon, Joe Sheeran (1993), 2:16:55 and Annie Kuiken (1990), 2:50:35; half-marathon: John Wellerding (1983), 1:03:23 and Karen Burkowski (1984), 1:17:09; 10K run, Todd McCallister (1988), 30:14 and Cindy James (1988), 35:00.

"Few events are doing that," Gretchen Bercaw, ex-

The events, designed to cover Lake County, reach as far north as Zion and as far south as Highland Park. There will be a change in the starting position, as runners will start on Sheridan Rd., not Shiloh Blvd., eliminating the first turn.

Proceeds from the event benefit Glenkirk and North-eastern Illinois Special Olympics. A total of $30,000 was donated to these charities in 1992.

Bercaw, executive director, said 4,000 people are expected.

Running events throughout the area are experiencing declines in participation due to inclement weather, but that is not expected for the Races.

"We promote the event year-round and applications go out as early as October," she said. Some 1,000 volunteers help make the Races run smoothly.

Last year's marathon winners were Stuart Sears, with 2:25:53 and Kuiken-Popek won for the second time in three years, 2:53:52.

Dan Skarda of Libertyville, the marathon winner in 1991, won the half-marathon last year.

Sponsors include: Moore

Business systems for the marathon; Benefit Trust Life for the half marathon and Decker & Linn Law Office for the Special Olympic Relays.

Registration will take place at the Sheraton North Shore Inn in Northbrook from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday, April 23 and 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on a space available basis only Saturday, April 24.

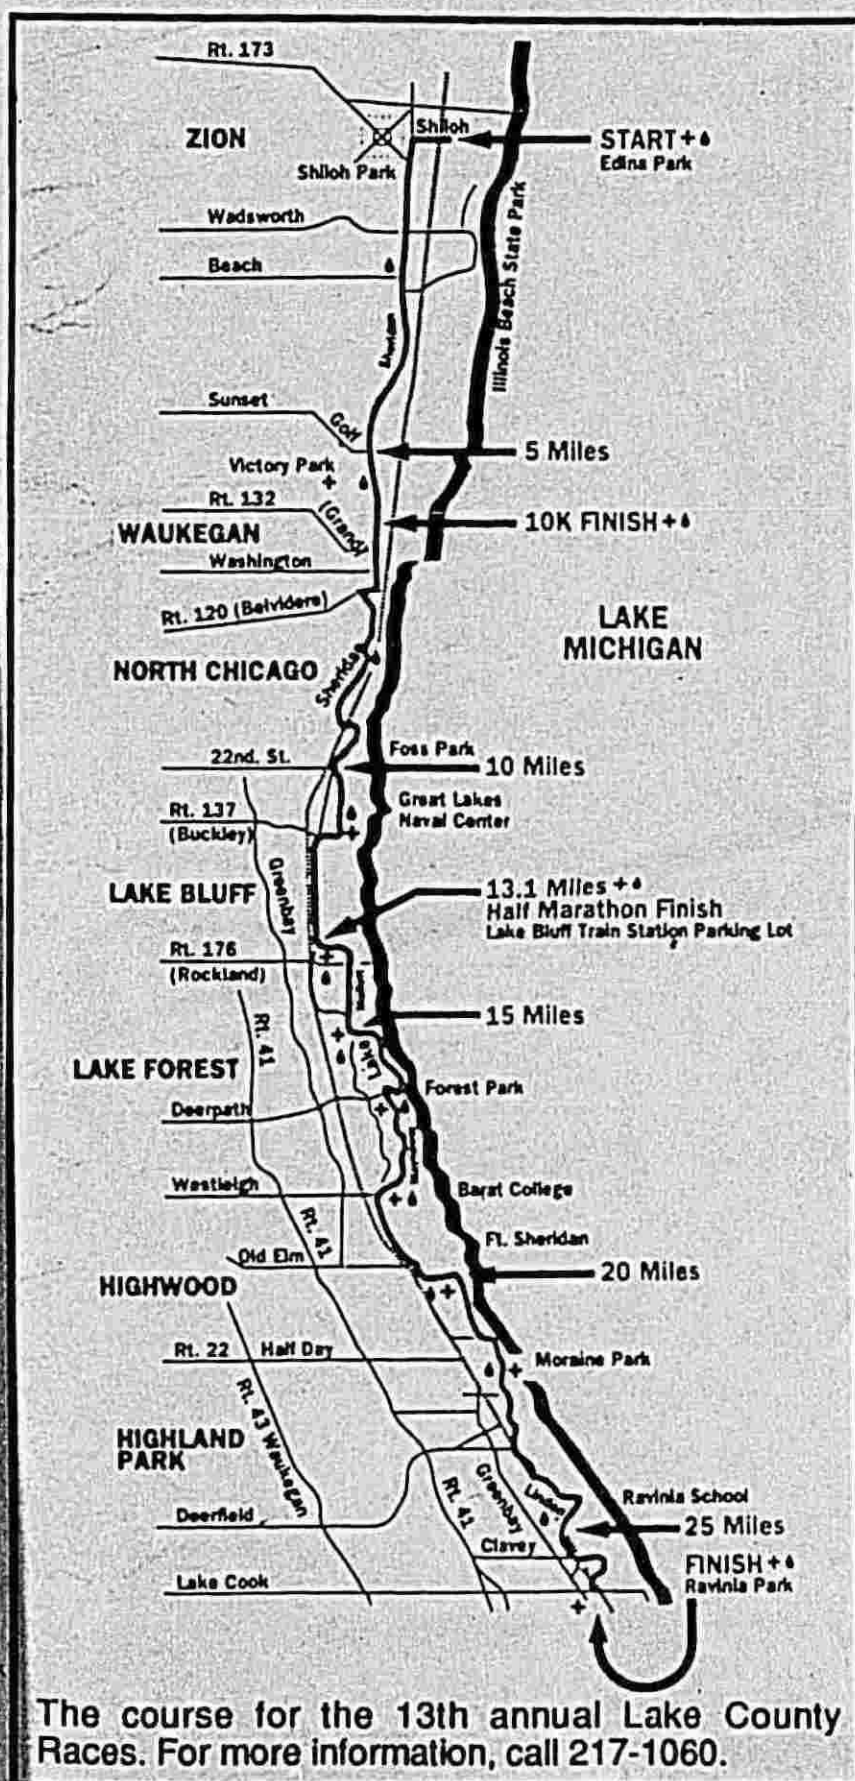

Race times are 8:15 a.m. in Zion and 8:45 a.m. in Ravinia Park for a family fun walk.

A variety of pre-race seminars will also be available to Lake County Races April 24 at the North Shore Inn. Keynote speaker will be English Olympian and Masters Runner Precilla Welch. A past winner of the New York City marathon, she was diagnosed as having breast cancer and is undergoing chemotherapy. She will speak at a carbo party at 6:30 p.m.

For more information on the Eight foreigners are expected to participate including six from Manila, Philippines.

The half-marathon will feature an Olympian, Jenny Gessell. Gessell, 29, competed in the 1984 and 1988 games.

The course for the 13th annual Lake County Races. For more information, call 217-1060.

Grant softballers hope pitching improves

Working on walks will be the priority for the Grant girls softball team in the early going of the Northwest Suburban Conference season.

The Bulldogs fell to Round Lake 20-9 in the season opener as Grant pitchers gave up almost as many walks as the Panthers got runs - 19.

"Walks did us in. We hit the ball well and catcher, Amy Ornelas, threw out two runners at second base," Grant Coach Sue Richardson said.

Amber Gathman, a senior with a slingshot delivery, returns to the mound for Grant. Richardson could call on Erin Kline or Angie Ornelas. "She has good accuracy and could be our second starter," Richardson said.

allowing a hit in the sophomore game.

"If we can get our pitching down, I think we will be all right. We outplayed Round Lake, but we gave them all their runs. We have 13 solid players and we have better bats and

Looking to lead the offense could be: junior pitcher third baseman Nadine Morley, who started the Round Lake game; Michelle Noah, outfielder; Shannon Chapman, a junior.
